U.S. Plans Huge A-Smasher

West Presents Plan For Peace; Gromyko Silent

Allies Offer Concessions

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter laid on the line Thursday the West's sweeping package plan for uniting Berlin, merging East and West Germany, and starting global disarmament. He urged the Soviet Union to accept it as the basis for a European settlement.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who had decried the package in advance as a tangle of unrelated issues, was quiet during the Big Four conference's 2-hour, 10-minute fourth session.

He listened carefully but without comment to Herter's presentation of the plan, which includes at least half a dozen modifications of long-held Western views on Berlin, German unification, and European security.

A Soviet spokesman assured newsmen after the session that Gromyko "will make his position known in detail" later.

Radio Moscow quickly denounced the plan, saying it made the work of the Big Four conference more difficult.

East Germany's Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz, who is seated in the conference as an adviser, said however the plan "is of such importance that it deserves to be studied carefully."

Khrushchev Renews Demand

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, speaking before a meeting in Kishinev at about the same time the West was presenting its plan here, asserted again that the Soviet Union stands firm on its demand that West Berlin "must become a free city."

Gromyko is expected to counter with a Soviet proposal for the Big Four powers to conclude a peace treaty with the rival German states and for the United States, Britain and France to get their troops out of West Berlin.

France's foreign minister Couve de Murville, recovered from a mild case of grippe, was the day's chairman as Herter presented the long-heralded package wrapped up by the Western ministers in Paris April 30.

Herter said it goes "very far to meet Soviet preoccupations," including the fear of renewed German aggression.

"So long as the German problem remains unsolved," he warned Gromyko, "a basic source of insecurity, dissatisfaction and risk will continue to prevail."

Soviet Views Taken In Account

The United States, Britain and France have made important changes in their proposals on Germany and European security as advanced at the 1955 Geneva summit conference, he said, "in order to take account of Soviet views."

Couve de Murville asked Gromyko whether he wished to speak. He smiled and said nothing.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd backed up Herter's presentation of the package plan.

The 30-month blockbuster program would unify 72 million Germans in a nation free to choose neutrality or alignment with the West or East, clear the way for a final World War II peace settlement, and permit the ultimate withdrawal of Soviet and Western troops from central Europe.

In the first phase, Soviet-threatened Berlin—now occupied by all the Big Four powers—would be united by free elections in preparation for its future role as the capital of a unified Germany.

The Soviets have threatened to push the Western Allies out of West Berlin, a Western enclave within East Germany.

They want recognition of the Communist East German government on a par with the freely elected West German regime so that the German Reds would be entrenched in a future united Germany regardless of the popular bill.

A unifying German election could put anti-Communists in con-

Development Loan Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate sent to the White House Thursday night a money bill carrying 150 million dollars of the 225 millions President Eisenhower asked for loans to underdeveloped nations abroad.

Passage came after the Senate turned back an effort by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La) to renew a fight with the House over Army and Marine Corps manpower levels. A Senate move to require a larger army and Marine Corps fell by the wayside.

The military manpower motion and the Development Loan Fund money were the only major issues in dispute in separate Senate and House versions of a $2,764,500,380 catch-all money bill to supply a number of government agencies with additional funds for the current fiscal year, ending June 30.

The Development Loan Fund figure was a compromise. The Senate had previously approved 200 million dollars, the House 100 millions. The money is used to make long-term, low-interest loans to friendly nations to help them develop their economies.

The House passed the compromise version of the legislation earlier in the day and the Senate quickly followed suit. But then Sen. Long delayed the measure from going to the White House by offering a motion to reconsider the vote.

That motion was rejected Thursday night, 45-33, after a bitter wrangle over whether the Senate should make another effort to roll back Army and Marine Corps cuts ordered by the Eisenhower administration.

Long insisted there should be such an effort. He said the Senate conferees didn't try on the first round of talks with the House to save Senate provisions designed to try to restore the Army's manpower level to 900,000 and the Marine Corps to 200,000.

Raging Gun Battle Ends In Death Of 3

Barricaded Man Found Dead; Slew Wife, Police Chief

LIMERICK, Maine (AP) — A raging gun battle ended Thursday night with discovery of the body of Gordon G. Hamlin, 51, who had shot and killed his wife and a policeman.

Wary besiegers found Hamlin's body in the cellar of his house where he had barricaded himself for six hours.

Whether he was shot or died from tear gas — hundreds of shells were fired into the frame home — was not immediately determined.

Also dead was Chief Pierre Harnois, 32, of the Westbrook police, a former FBI agent at Chicago and San Diego, Calif.

State Trooper Stephen Regina, 41, of Saco was in serious condition with buckshot wounds in a leg and his stomach.

Another trooper, Willard Parker, also was hit. First policeman on the scene, he was peppered with slugs when he kicked in Hamlin's door and tried to arrest the furniture maker. Parker wasn't seriously wounded, however.

On a porch across Rt. 11 from the besieged house lay the body of Hamlin's wife, Rose, about 40.

Police said Hamlin, distraught over financial troubles, chased his wife across the street and shot her on a neighbor's porch.

Dozens of troopers, deputy sheriffs and game wardens took part in the long siege.

After darkness fell, searchlights were trained on the house as police and Hamlin continued their duel.

About 8 p.m. firing from inside the house stopped.

Police weren't sure Hamlin was dead. They continued a barrage to keep him down. More and more tear gas shells were lobbed into the house.

The shells set part of the house ablaze. Volunteer firemen poured water into the rear of the building while police continued their firing from the front and rear.

Shortly after 9 p.m., troopers pushing floodlights ahead of them went in.

Jayne's Sheer Nylon Gown Evokes Gasps

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jayne Mansfield opened her act at the Tropicana Hotel in a gown so daring that even the Vegas nudes ran for cover.

Her entrance Wednesday night brought a gasp from first-nighters who had been watching bare-breasted French and German beauties for months on the other side of the Strip.

On paper, the gown is not extreme. It covers practically every part of Jayne's famous anatomy—even has half a dozen petticoats.

But somehow poured over her ample figure, it sort of dissolves. The petticoats are worn from the knee down. The rest of the gown is sheer nylon. Only a few strategic spangles block the view.

"I designed it myself," said Jane. "I wanted to be completely covered. If I had tried to compete with the nudes on their own grounds, it would have been bad taste. And besides those girls are not as healthy as I. They have been through a war and all that hardship."

5-Year-Old Boy Identifies Kidnap Slayer Of Buddy

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Chris Wilhelm, 5, who was with Ben Wagner when his 6-year-old buddy was lured into the car of a kidnap slayer April 4, stood in the prosecutor's office Thursday and pointed to an expressionless man with thick glasses.

"That's the man who took Ben away," Chris said. "Ben didn't come back any more."

Identification of Harold W. McLaughlin, 28, convicted sex deviate, was the climax of a six-week investigation.

Milwaukee County Dist. Atty. William J. McCauley and Ozaukee County Prosecutor James Kocnen authorized abduction and first-degree murder warrants in their respective jurisdictions.

Once questioned and freed on an alibi supported by his mother, McLaughlin broke down Wednesday night at Central State Hospital for the Criminal Insane and admitted taking the child from an alley near his home, and later stabbing him to death beside a lonely suburban road.

McLaughlin was committed to Central State—for the second time in a sordid career—less than a month ago for molesting another boy shortly before the Wagner crime. He was among several early suspects and once eluded police in a wild 110-mile-an-hour auto chase. He was cleared when his mother, Mrs. Joseph Kubek, 53, insisted he was home watching television when Ben, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wagner, disappeared.

West Proposes Atom Test Ban Technical Talks

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and Britain Thursday asked Soviet Russia to agree to a meeting of East-West scientists to improve atomic test detection methods in the interests of speeding up the three-power nuclear ban talks.

The proposal for a second meeting of technicians from the three nuclear powers came in informal talks among U. S. Secretary of State Christian Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The three foreign ministers took time out from the Big Four conference to review the nuclear ban negotiations and discuss means of accelerating them. It was the first such high-level meeting since the talks opened here last Oct. 31.

A Soviet spokesman described the 80-minute meeting in Herter's residence, the Villa Greta, as "useful." He expressed hope for similar talks in the future.

The United States and Britain believed that in light of information unavailable a year ago, detection methods then proposed by a conference of East-West scientists are inadequate.

Herter and Lloyd told Gromyko they were particularly interested in improving means of detecting high altitude tests. They also said they wanted the scientists to consider again what type of technical data should be counted as evidence of an illegal nuclear explosion.

Senate Group Ends Strauss Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce ended Thursday after 16 days of turbulent testimony.

The Senate Commerce Committee will vote behind closed doors next Tuesday on confirmation or rejection of Strauss' appointment to the Cabinet post.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash) said he hoped the recommendations of both majority and minority groups would be ready for the Senate late next week.

The committee's hearings ended amid confusion, with police coming on the run to eject a woman spectator.

Just before the final gavel fell Strauss was trying to finish a statement listing a group of scientists who have praised his services and Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) was trying to read a statement endorsing Strauss.

In the back of the room Agnes Waters, a familiar figure at congressional hearings, shouted a demand that she be given a chance to present a statement opposing Strauss.

As Magnuson banged his gavel, she screamed that Strauss had financed the Russian Revolution. Police hustled her out of the building.

Navy Blimp Crashes Into Hangar In Fog

Crewman Killed, 6 Others Hospitalized

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — A Navy blimp returning from an Atlantic patrol in swirling fog early Thursday crashed into a hangar while trying to land.

One crewman was killed. Six other crew members were hospitalized, three of them in critical condition. Others in the crew of 18 officers and men escaped with scratches.

The huge ZPG2 airship, 343 feet long, approached the Navy base here on instruments, using radar surveillance. The control tower knew what part of the field the blimp was over but not its altitude.

The blimp made one pass but was waved off. On the second try from the southwest, the corrugated steel hangar suddenly loomed out of the fog and the darkness. Gunning its motors, the airship tried to clear the roof.

It crunched against the hangar, where several helicopters were stored, at 35 to 40 miles an hour.

The engines and the metal gondola, slung beneath the 150-ton craft, jabbed through the hangar and emerged on the inside.

The blimp's rubberized neoprene gas bag was torn open and a million cubic feet of helium shot free. Then the empty skin billowed down over the hangar's roof like a shroud. There was no fire.

Killed was Lt. (j.g.) David M. Loyd of Vega, Tex., whose chest and lungs were crushed. Loyd was a reservist on active duty, due for release next month. He and his wife, Marian, lived at Pinehurst Estates in Lakehurst and had two children.

The commander of the two year old airship, Lt. (j.g.) Richard W. Sirch of Flushing, N.Y., was still unconscious 10 hours after the crash. He was in critical condition at Philadelphia Naval Hospital with severe lacerations.

Education Aid Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Education Committee Thursday approved a four-year $4,400,000,000 federal school aid bill designed to build more schools and increase teacher salaries.

The Democratic-sponsored measure cleared the committee by an 18-10 vote with Democrats casting all the yes votes. Opposed were eight Republicans and two Democrats— Committee Chairman Graham A. Barden (N.C.) and Rep. Phil M. Landrum (Ga.).

Rep. Cleveland Bailey (D - W. Va.), chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the bill, conceded it faced a "couple of stiff bottlenecks" in the House Rules Committee and on the House floor, where a fight loomed over aid to segregated schools.

Republican committee members Reps. Carroll D. Kearns (Pa.), Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., (N.J.) and Robert P. Griffin (Mich.) said the measure didn't have a ghost of a chance of clearing Congress.

Jupiter IRBM Ready For Operational Use

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Army declared its Jupiter intermediate-range ballistic missile ready for operational use Thursday after the reliable rocket made a successful 1,500-mile flight.

The powerful missile roared down the Atlantic range shortly after midnight and the Army announced hours later in Washington that it had successfully traveled the planned distance.

The Army said the Jupiter can now be delivered to Air Force troops for operational use. It is expected to be assigned to NATO forces in Italy.

Eisenhower, Steel Union Chief Confer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald held a private 30-minute huddle with President Eisenhower Thursday in the midst of contract negotiations aimed at averting a steel strike this summer.

McDonald said later, however, that he and the President did not talk about the steel negotiations "nor did we discuss any economic problems."

McDonald, fresh from a sharp argument with industry negotiators over steel wages and prices said he had known the Chief Executive since 1944 and Thursday's talk was "just a social visit between friends."

Before the start of negotiations, Eisenhower had called on both sides to reach a contract agreement that would not touch off a new inflationary spiral in the nation's economy. He indicated the government would step into the picture if the negotiations produced inflationary results.

The eight negotiators — four from each side — apparently had made no progress Thursday toward a new contract which would avoid a nation-wide steel strike in July by 500,000 steelworkers. The present agreement expires at mid night June 30.

Housing Bill Turned Loose By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee turned loose a $2,100,000,000 housing bill Thursday. Debate will begin in the House next Tuesday.

A sharp argument is likely on whether to include money for low-rent public housing.

The bill had been deadlocked more than a month within the committee by a combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

However, Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va) and Rep. William Colmer (D-Miss) were reported to have come over to the idea of letting the House act. That altered a 6-6 vote to 8-4 in favor.

Colmer said the House will have its choice of the bill drafted by the Banking Committee and containing public housing, or other legislation not containing public housing.

President Eisenhower has recommended an end to public housing, under which federal subsidies go into low-rent dwelling projects.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), who had prodded the Rules Committee for action, announced the timetable for debate.

However, Rayburn refused to guess whether the House will pass a bill containing public housing.

President Eisenhower Wednesday called urgently for action to give the Federal Housing Administration authority to increase its mortgage insurance authorization by six billion dollars.

There has been no controversy over this, since the insurance program is self-supporting. However, the FHA has found itself approaching a crisis because the mortgage increase it needs was tied up with the other housing items.

Jet Bomber Fire Kills 1, Injures 13

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — A B58 supersonic "Hustler" bomber, perhaps the world's fastest bomber and also possibly the costliest, burned on the ground at Convair aircraft plant Thursday, killing one man and injuring 13 others.

The bomber, a delta wing four-jet aircraft that normally carries a crew of three, caught fire as a maintenance crew was making it ready for its maiden test flight later in the day.

The fire threw up such black clouds of smoke it drew the attention of residents in downtown Fort Worth, eight miles away.

A Convair spokesman said the plane was destroyed.

G. W. Johnson, of Lillian, Tex., southeast of Forth Worth, was burned to death.

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP)—That $1 parking ticket now looks like a lost bargain to motorist Fred Plint of Saint John. He found it on his windshield and angrily tore it up. A policeman picked up and pasted together the 40-odd pieces with the result that Plint was fined $1 for illegal parking, $5 for littering the streets.

Interstate Terrorist Gang Blamed In Bombing Wave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigation of the bombing of a Jewish center in Nashville, Tenn., has turned up evidence pointing to a possible interstate terrorist gang.

This word came Thursday from Police Chief Douglas E. Hosse of Nashville, who told a House Judiciary subcommittee: "The Jewish center bombing followed a pattern extending all over the southeast part of the country."

Hosse recalled what he described as amazingly parallel events in other southeastern cities, occurring about the same time.

He mentioned the dynamiting of a synagogue in Miami, Fla. on the same day that the Nashville bombing occurred — March 16, 1958. The following month, he recalled, a Jewish institution in Jacksonville, Fla., was bombed and an attempt was made to dynamite a Jewish temple in Birmingham, Ala. The Birmingham effort fizzled.

Hosse noted that the wave of bombings and bomb threats has subsided. He attributed this to knowledge that the FBI is investigating, and he urged enactment of federal antibomb legislation "to remove the reign of fear and terror."

The subcommittee is considering a variety of bills. Some would establish a presumption of federal crime in bombings so that the FBI could move in immediately; others would provide that the FBI could be invited in by local authorities.

Ike Proposes Government Assume Cost

$100,000,000 Needed For Two Mile Long Linear Accelerator

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Thursday night that the federal government underwrite the cost of a 100-million-dollar research unit to help preserve America's freedom in the nuclear age.

The President said he will ask Congress to authorize the huge project—a machine two miles long, the largest of its kind ever to be built. Construction would take six years.

Stanford University, where the huge atom smasher is to be built, announced details of the project a year ago. At the time, university authorities said they were hopeful of federal financial backing for the project.

Eisenhower outlined the building plan at a science symposium dinner sponsored by the National Academy of Sciences, the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

In a prepared speech, the President said: "Our immediate task —America's first responsibility — is to see that freedom is not lost through ignorance, complacency, or lack of vigilance."

Cornerstone Of Security

He said science and technology are the cornerstone of American security and the nation's program for a just peace.

"For the government to neglect this fact would be folly," Eisenhower asserted.

The President told his dinner audience at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel that plans for construction of the big atomic research unit were recommended to him by his Science Advisory Committee.

He called for construction of a huge new electron linear accelerator. The project has been proposed by Stanford University and the plans are to construct the accelerator there.

Such accelerators — or atom smashers—are one of the main tools of physicists who explore the subatomic universe.

The more precise tools are beams of high-energy particles required to probe the structure of the tiniest particles of matter.

Such high-energy particles are produced in giant accelerators.

The Eisenhower program calls for construction of what is known as a linear accelerator. The largest now operating is a 220-foot tube located at Stanford.

The new proposal is for a two-mile-long accelerator. It is expected that initial operation of the unit will be in the neighborhood of 10 to 15 billion electron volts.

U. S. Must Maintain Progress

In his speech, Eisenhower said the proposed unit "promises to make valuable contributions to our understanding in a field in which the United States already is strong, and in which we must maintain our progress."

Twenty years ago, Eisenhower said, federal support of science was about 100 million dollars annually. Today, he went on, this annual investment in applied and basic research, along with pioneer development, has increased to more than five billion dollars.

Eisenhower emphasized—as he has many times before—that the main reliance for scientific research and development must rest with private organizations. But he called proposed construction of the huge new research unit one of the ways in which it is appropriate for the federal government to cooperate.

The President flew in from Washington for Thursday night's dinner. During the morning he broke ground for Manhattan's new 75-million-dollar Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He then visited the N. Y. Coliseum and spent almost an hour touring the U. S. World Trade Fair.

Jazz Saxophonist Sidney Bechet Dies

PARIS (AP) — Sidney Bechet, whose sweet saxophone helped spread New Orleans jazz around the world, died Thursday of lung cancer.

And his old sidekick Louis Satchmo Armstrong observed: "One of the saints has now gone marchin' in."

Bechet died on his 68th birthday. He was probably the world's greatest player of the soprano saxophone. Originally, as a boy in New Orleans, he played the clarinet.

West Proposes Atom Test Ban Technical Talks

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and Britain Thursday asked Soviet Russia to agree to a meeting of East-West scientists to improve atomic test detection methods in the interests of speeding up the three-power nuclear ban talks.

The proposal for a second meeting of technicians from the three nuclear powers came in informal talks among U. S. Secretary of State Christian Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The three foreign ministers took time out from the Big Four conference to review the nuclear ban negotiations and discuss means of accelerating them. It was the first such high-level meeting since the talks opened here last Oct. 31.

A Soviet spokesman described the 80-minute meeting in Herter's residence, the Villa Greta, as "useful." He expressed hope for similar talks in the future.

The United States and Britain believed that in light of information unavailable a year ago, detection methods then proposed by a conference of East-West scientists are inadequate.

Herter and Lloyd told Gromyko they were particularly interested in improving means of detecting high altitude tests. They also said they wanted the scientists to consider again what type of technical data should be counted as evidence of an illegal nuclear explosion.

Senate Group Ends Strauss Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce ended Thursday after 16 days of turbulent testimony.

The Senate Commerce Committee will vote behind closed doors next Tuesday on confirmation or rejection of Strauss' appointment to the Cabinet post.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash) said he hoped the recommendations of both majority and minority groups would be ready for the Senate late next week.

The committee's hearings ended amid confusion, with police coming on the run to eject a woman spectator.

Just before the final gavel fell Strauss was trying to finish a statement listing a group of scientists who have praised his services and Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) was trying to read a statement endorsing Strauss.

In the back of the room Agnes Waters, a familiar figure at congressional hearings, shouted a demand that she be given a chance to present a statement opposing Strauss.

As Magnuson banged his gavel, she screamed that Strauss had financed the Russian Revolution. Police hustled her out of the building.

Crewman Killed, 6 Others Hospitalized

LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — A Navy blimp returning from an Atlantic patrol in swirling fog early Thursday crashed into a hangar while trying to land.

One crewman was killed. Six other crew members were hospitalized, three of them in critical condition. Others in the crew of 18 officers and men escaped with scratches.

The huge ZPG2 airship, 343 feet long, approached the Navy base here on instruments, using radar surveillance. The control tower knew what part of the field the blimp was over but not its altitude.

The blimp made one pass but was waved off. On the second try from the southwest, the corrugated steel hangar suddenly loomed out of the fog and the darkness. Gunning its motors, the airship tried to clear the roof.

It crunched against the hangar, where several helicopters were stored, at 35 to 40 miles an hour.

The engines and the metal gondola, slung beneath the 150-ton craft, jabbed through the hangar and emerged on the inside.

The blimp's rubberized neoprene gas bag was torn open and a million cubic feet of helium shot free. Then the empty skin billowed down over the hangar's roof like a shroud. There was no fire.

Killed was Lt. (j.g.) David M. Loyd of Vega, Tex., whose chest and lungs were crushed. Loyd was a reservist on active duty, due for release next month. He and his wife, Marian, lived at Pinehurst Estates in Lakehurst and had two children.

The commander of the two year old airship, Lt. (j.g.) Richard W. Sirch of Flushing, N.Y., was still unconscious 10 hours after the crash. He was in critical condition at Philadelphia Naval Hospital with severe lacerations.

Education Aid Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Education Committee Thursday approved a four-year $4,400,000,000 federal school aid bill designed to build more schools and increase teacher salaries.

The Democratic-sponsored measure cleared the committee by an 18-10 vote with Democrats casting all the yes votes. Opposed were eight Republicans and two Democrats— Committee Chairman Graham A. Barden (N.C.) and Rep. Phil M. Landrum (Ga.).

Rep. Cleveland Bailey (D - W. Va.), chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the bill, conceded it faced a "couple of stiff bottlenecks" in the House Rules Committee and on the House floor, where a fight loomed over aid to segregated schools.

Republican committee members Reps. Carroll D. Kearns (Pa.), Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., (N.J.) and Robert P. Griffin (Mich.) said the measure didn't have a ghost of a chance of clearing Congress.

Jupiter IRBM Ready For Operational Use

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Army declared its Jupiter intermediate-range ballistic missile ready for operational use Thursday after the reliable rocket made a successful 1,500-mile flight.

The powerful missile roared down the Atlantic range shortly after midnight and the Army announced hours later in Washington that it had successfully traveled the planned distance.

The Army said the Jupiter can now be delivered to Air Force troops for operational use. It is expected to be assigned to NATO forces in Italy.

Eisenhower, Steel Union Chief Confer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald held a private 30-minute huddle with President Eisenhower Thursday in the midst of contract negotiations aimed at averting a steel strike this summer.

McDonald said later, however, that he and the President did not talk about the steel negotiations "nor did we discuss any economic problems."

McDonald, fresh from a sharp argument with industry negotiators over steel wages and prices said he had known the Chief Executive since 1944 and Thursday's talk was "just a social visit between friends."

Before the start of negotiations, Eisenhower had called on both sides to reach a contract agreement that would not touch off a new inflationary spiral in the nation's economy. He indicated the government would step into the picture if the negotiations produced inflationary results.

The eight negotiators — four from each side — apparently had made no progress Thursday toward a new contract which would avoid a nation-wide steel strike in July by 500,000 steelworkers. The present agreement expires at mid night June 30.

Housing Bill Turned Loose By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee turned loose a $2,100,000,000 housing bill Thursday. Debate will begin in the House next Tuesday.

A sharp argument is likely on whether to include money for low-rent public housing.

The bill had been deadlocked more than a month within the committee by a combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

However, Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va) and Rep. William Colmer (D-Miss) were reported to have come over to the idea of letting the House act. That altered a 6-6 vote to 8-4 in favor.

Colmer said the House will have its choice of the bill drafted by the Banking Committee and containing public housing, or other legislation not containing public housing.

President Eisenhower has recommended an end to public housing, under which federal subsidies go into low-rent dwelling projects.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), who had prodded the Rules Committee for action, announced the timetable for debate.

However, Rayburn refused to guess whether the House will pass a bill containing public housing.

President Eisenhower Wednesday called urgently for action to give the Federal Housing Administration authority to increase its mortgage insurance authorization by six billion dollars.

There has been no controversy over this, since the insurance program is self-supporting. However, the FHA has found itself approaching a crisis because the mortgage increase it needs was tied up with the other housing items.

Jet Bomber Fire Kills 1, Injures 13

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — A B58 supersonic "Hustler" bomber, perhaps the world's fastest bomber and also possibly the costliest, burned on the ground at Convair aircraft plant Thursday, killing one man and injuring 13 others.

The bomber, a delta wing four-jet aircraft that normally carries a crew of three, caught fire as a maintenance crew was making it ready for its maiden test flight later in the day.

The fire threw up such black clouds of smoke it drew the attention of residents in downtown Fort Worth, eight miles away.

A Convair spokesman said the plane was destroyed.

G. W. Johnson, of Lillian, Tex., southeast of Forth Worth, was burned to death.

Lost Bargain

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP)—That $1 parking ticket now looks like a lost bargain to motorist Fred Plint of Saint John. He found it on his windshield and angrily tore it up. A policeman picked up and pasted together the 40-odd pieces with the result that Plint was fined $1 for illegal parking, $5 for littering the streets.

Interstate Terrorist Gang Blamed In Bombing Wave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigation of the bombing of a Jewish center in Nashville, Tenn., has turned up evidence pointing to a possible interstate terrorist gang.

This word came Thursday from Police Chief Douglas E. Hosse of Nashville, who told a House Judiciary subcommittee: "The Jewish center bombing followed a pattern extending all over the southeast part of the country."

Hosse recalled what he described as amazingly parallel events in other southeastern cities, occurring about the same time.

He mentioned the dynamiting of a synagogue in Miami, Fla. on the same day that the Nashville bombing occurred — March 16, 1958. The following month, he recalled, a Jewish institution in Jacksonville, Fla., was bombed and an attempt was made to dynamite a Jewish temple in Birmingham, Ala. The Birmingham effort fizzled.

Hosse noted that the wave of bombings and bomb threats has subsided. He attributed this to knowledge that the FBI is investigating, and he urged enactment of federal antibomb legislation "to remove the reign of fear and terror."

The subcommittee is considering a variety of bills. Some would establish a presumption of federal crime in bombings so that the FBI could move in immediately; others would provide that the FBI could be invited in by local authorities.

Ike Proposes Government Assume Cost

$100,000,000 Needed For Two Mile Long Linear Accelerator

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Thursday night that the federal government underwrite the cost of a 100-million-dollar research unit to help preserve America's freedom in the nuclear age.

The President said he will ask Congress to authorize the huge project—a machine two miles long, the largest of its kind ever to be built. Construction would take six years.

Stanford University, where the huge atom smasher is to be built, announced details of the project a year ago. At the time, university authorities said they were hopeful of federal financial backing for the project.

Eisenhower outlined the building plan at a science symposium dinner sponsored by the National Academy of Sciences, the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

In a prepared speech, the President said: "Our immediate task —America's first responsibility — is to see that freedom is not lost through ignorance, complacency, or lack of vigilance."

Cornerstone Of Security

He said science and technology are the cornerstone of American security and the nation's program for a just peace.

"For the government to neglect this fact would be folly," Eisenhower asserted.

The President told his dinner audience at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel that plans for construction of the big atomic research unit were recommended to him by his Science Advisory Committee.

He called for construction of a huge new electron linear accelerator. The project has been proposed by Stanford University and the plans are to construct the accelerator there.

Such accelerators — or atom smashers—are one of the main tools of physicists who explore the subatomic universe.

The more precise tools are beams of high-energy particles required to probe the structure of the tiniest particles of matter.

Such high-energy particles are produced in giant accelerators.

The Eisenhower program calls for construction of what is known as a linear accelerator. The largest now operating is a 220-foot tube located at Stanford.

The new proposal is for a two-mile-long accelerator. It is expected that initial operation of the unit will be in the neighborhood of 10 to 15 billion electron volts.

U. S. Must Maintain Progress

In his speech, Eisenhower said the proposed unit "promises to make valuable contributions to our understanding in a field in which the United States already is strong, and in which we must maintain our progress."

Twenty years ago, Eisenhower said, federal support of science was about 100 million dollars annually. Today, he went on, this annual investment in applied and basic research, along with pioneer development, has increased to more than five billion dollars.

Eisenhower emphasized—as he has many times before—that the main reliance for scientific research and development must rest with private organizations. But he called proposed construction of the huge new research unit one of the ways in which it is appropriate for the federal government to cooperate.

The President flew in from Washington for Thursday night's dinner. During the morning he broke ground for Manhattan's new 75-million-dollar Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He then visited the N. Y. Coliseum and spent almost an hour touring the U. S. World Trade Fair.

Jazz Saxophonist Sidney Bechet Dies

PARIS (AP) — Sidney Bechet, whose sweet saxophone helped spread New Orleans jazz around the world, died Thursday of lung cancer.

Long Stirs Memories Of His 'Kingfish' Father

WASHINGTON (AP)—The son of the late Huey P. Long offered Thursday to take on the whole Senate, just as his father used to do.

The son, Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La), is fighting against confirmation of C. Douglas Dillon as No. 2 man at the State Department.

If he isn't given the necessary time to complete his investigation of Dillon, Long threatened Thursday. "I shall feel compelled to engage in deliberate, dilatory tactics to slow down this steamroller."

"If the junior senator from Louisiana lacks the courage to fight for his convictions," he told a sparsely attended session, "he did not get it from his father or his mother.

"Perhaps one of the reasons that I adore the United States Senate more than any institution on earth is that I had the privilege, as a boy, of sitting in the gallery and watching my father fight a one-man battle against hopeless odds."

The usually quiet senator did indeed stir memories of his "Kingfish" father (1893-1935), who ruled the political scene in Louisiana and rattled the Senate rafters with his filibusters.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), the acting majority leader, assured Long he would be given every opportunity to develop his case against Dillon. Long previously said he might speak for at least a dy or two.

Virus Infection Fatal To WVU Student

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—A West Virginia University student apparently died of an acute virus infection instead of carbon monoxide poisoning as first believed, pathologist M. J. Hobbs said Thursday.

Paul Roger White, 22-year-old junior from Clarksburg, was found dead in his apartment Wednesday night. A preliminary coroner's report indicated monoxide fumes from a refrigerator caused the death.

The barbecue originated in the south and was popular in Virginia prior to 1700.

Cancer Found In Twining Lung

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan Twining was described officially Thursday as a victim of lung cancer, now recovering from surgery.

The Defense Department said the 61-year-old Air Force general is expected to be able to resume his duties as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff within five or six weeks.

Twining underwent an operation on Tuesday for removal of the upper lobe of his left lung. It was similar to the surgery performed two weeks ago on Arthur Godfrey, the television performer, who is leaving a New York hospital Friday for further convalescence at home.

Twining is at Walter Reed Army Hospital. Authorities there said he is making very satisfactory progress and should be able to leave the hospital within three or four weeks. Following an additional convalescence of about two weeks more he should be able to return to his desk at the Pentagon, they said.

Although the surgery was performed Tuesday, it was not until Thursday that it was announced that Twining's ailment had been found to be cancer.

Officers Complained Of Ex-Cons' 'Threats,' Hepbron Probe Told

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The prosecution attempted to show Thursday that Cappy Goldstein and Benny Trotta, a pair of Baltimore ex-convicts, exerted influence in the city Police Department under Commissioner James M. Hepbron.

Hepbron has been accused at a removal hearing before Gov. Tawes of having been on friendly terms with Goldstein, Trotta and Frankie Carbo, New York underworld figure and fugitive from a boxing conspiracy charge.

Fred L. Ford, retired chief inspector, testified Thursday that officers complained to him on several occasions that Goldstein and Trotta had "threatened" to have Ford, suspended Inspector Clarence O. Forrester and ousted rackets squad Capt. Hyman Goldstein "thrown out" of the department.

He said on one occasion he played for Hepbron a recorded tapped telephone conversation in which Cappy Goldstein told Trotta "we've got to get those three so-and-so's out of the police department."

The commissioner, he added, told them not to worry and to go out and do a good job. He said the other "threats" from Goldstein and Trotta had been picked up by officers on "The Block", Baltimore's notorious honky-tonk district.

Women Play Top Role In Big-Time TV Production

By JACK GAVER
By United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Someone was speculating at a rehearsal of "Billy Budd," a forthcoming TV drama, on how much appeal it might have for women viewers, it being a tough early 19th Century tale of justice at sea with an all-male cast.

No one, not even the rating systems, may ever have the answer to that, but one thing is certain—there is a strong female contingent behind the production. Which can only mean that it is a Talent Associates presentation.

David Susskind, TA vice president and executive producer, makes no bones about it. So far as he's concerned, women are almost ideal workers in the hectic, ulcerating business of big-time TV production. Almost three-fourths of the approximately 50 on the TA staff are women. This, of course, includes secretarial and clerical help, but the upper echelon has a strong distaff contingent.

Finds Women Loyal

"I have found that women—at least the ones we've employed—have an almost fantastic loyalty and dedication," Susskind said. "They seem to have a reserve of energy that men do not have. They will work all hours without question. And some of them are married.

"They have a sense of the artistic that is helpful in this business. I suppose it's a cliche to mention female intuition. But I don't know how to account otherwise for some of the things that our women employes have come up with to benefit of our productions. They just seem to sense when something is wrong and pluck a solution out of nowhere."

Susskind pointed out that the strong distaff influence in his shop just happened. None of those in top posts now came as experienced TV hands; a couple had had some theater experience, one was hired in a secretarial capacity.

A Knack For Tact

"But by now I am consciously on the lookout for women who seem to have ability to work into top jobs with us," he continued. "Whatever you may think of women generally, we've found that those in responsible jobs here have a knack for tact that men often lack. For example, I'd never want again to have a man as story editor. A writer may turn in something that isn't quite right, and a male editor likely will be quite blunt about saying so. Take the negative approach, killing all incentive in the writer to fix up his work. But our girls point out script shortcomings in a positive, encouraging manner that keeps the writer working."

The TA staff includes one producer, Jacquelin Babbin, on the "Armstrong Circle Theater" series (she is also story chief); Audrey Gellen, associate producer on "DuPont Show of the Month" and Rose Tobias, casting director who has five women assistants in her department.

All worked on "Billy Budd," based on the Herman Melville novel and the Broadway play adapted from it a few seasons ago. The play will be aired May 25 as the last "DuPont" of the season.

Great Books Group Names Program Co-ordinators

An evaluation of the work of William Faulkner, modern American author, was the objective of the Great Books Group, Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, at the meeting, on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Max Bastian. Mrs. Milton Beneman spoke on Faulkner's methods of presentation, noting that he has done much in the line of experimental writing, using the stream-of-consciousness technique as well as the interior monologue. His short story technique, she pointed out, is quite different, for in the stories he is direct and the plots are developed in a classic style.

"The Sound and the Fury" is considered the masterpiece of this Nobel Prize winner. Mrs. Milton Granet used this novel as the basis of a discussion of the writer's ability to characterize through the use of stream-of-consciousness. The story itself is concerned with the decadence of a once proud and aristocratic Southern family; it is told in four parts, the last of which is written objectively. The other parts are written in style appropriate to each of the narrators: Benjy, the idiot; Quentin, the sensitive, despairing suicide; and Jason, the embittered brother upon whom all the burden of his irresponsible family has fallen. From the text, Mrs. Amer Suter Jr. pointed out incidents and conversations typical of the characterizations created.

Other Faulkner novels were referred to by the group with particular emphasis on "As I Lay Dying" (1930), "Sanctuary" (1931), "Absalom, Absalom" (1936), "A Fable" (1955).

It was announced by Mrs. Ralph Webster that the next meeting will be held on June 9 at the home of Mrs. W. A. Van Ormer with Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie as co-hostess. At that time plans will be completed for the program for 1959-1960. Mrs. A. J. Mirkin and Mrs. G. Morgan Smith were appointed to serve as program co-ordinators.

Mrs. Granville Shirley was co-hostess with Mrs. Bastian. Mrs. George Newman, Mrs. Leland Ransom, and Mrs. S. G. Weisman were guests. Other members present were Mrs. W. Earle Cobey, Mrs. George Griffith, Mrs. Royce Hodges, Mrs. Milton Bernstein, Mrs. Paul Castelle, Mrs. William Durland, Mrs. William C. Walsh, Mrs. Russell Cook, Mrs. William A. Frailey, Mrs. A. J. Feigus, Mrs. John A. Cupler II, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Mirkin, Mrs. Van Ormer, and Mrs. Bowie.

Public Invited To CD Meeting

A civil defense meeting will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Baltimore Pike fire hall, to instruct homemakers of their duties in case of a disaster. Pictures will be shown.

The public is invited to attend.

St. John Lutheran Church Women Back Unified Plan

The United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's church voted in favor of the unified plan of organization following a report by Mrs. Merle Shumaker on the steering committee meeting. She explained the purpose, membership and type of meetings for circles, instead of the present individual organizations. She will report back to the committee May 28.

Officers were elected at the meeting held at the parsonage Tuesday evening. They are Mrs. Shumaker, president; Mrs. Raymond C. Wilt, vice president; Mrs. George Alexander, secretary; Miss Evelyn Sheetz, treasurer, and Mrs. E. Frederick Avers, statistical secretary. Committee chairmen are Mrs. D. A. Roth, Christian Service; Mrs. A. J. Weber, education; Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, membership, and Mrs. Donald L. Allison, offerings.

Mrs. Robert H. Mann conducted the business session. A letter was read from Mrs. George R. Alexander, key woman for Gettysburg Seminary Auxiliary of the Western Conference Synod. It requested prayer and interest in getting young people for full time Christian service, as 4,000 ministers will be needed in 10 years; and the same number women in five. The society voted the Christian service chairman allocate a part of the budget for an offering to help pay for a climate control unit which has been installed in the seminary library at the cost of $18,000 to preserve irreplaceable American Lutheran history books. Mrs. Roth reported on the Mountain Conference spring meeting at St. John's last month. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Donald Ellison.

The devotional and lesson period on "Growing as World Friends" was led by Miss Pauline Fisher. She was assisted by Mrs. Shumaker, Mrs. Avers, Mrs. Leroy J. Aronholt and Mrs. Roth.

St. John Lutheran Church Women Back Unified Plan

The United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's church voted in favor of the unified plan of organization following a report by Mrs. Merle Shumaker on the steering committee meeting. She explained the purpose, membership and type of meetings for circles, instead of the present individual organizations. She will report back to the committee May 28.

Officers were elected at the meeting held at the parsonage Tuesday evening. They are Mrs. Shumaker, president; Mrs. Raymond C. Wilt, vice president; Mrs. George Alexander, secretary; Miss Evelyn Sheetz, treasurer, and Mrs. E. Frederick Avers, statistical secretary. Committee chairmen are Mrs. D. A. Roth, Christian Service; Mrs. A. J. Weber, education; Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, membership, and Mrs. Donald L. Allison, offerings.

Mrs. Robert H. Mann conducted the business session. A letter was read from Mrs. George R. Alexander, key woman for Gettysburg Seminary Auxiliary of the Western Conference Synod. It requested prayer and interest in getting young people for full time Christian service, as 4,000 ministers will be needed in 10 years; and the same number women in five. The society voted the Christian service chairman allocate a part of the budget for an offering to help pay for a climate control unit which has been installed in the seminary library at the cost of $18,000 to preserve irreplaceable American Lutheran history books. Mrs. Roth reported on the Mountain Conference spring meeting at St. John's last month. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Donald Ellison.

The devotional and lesson period on "Growing as World Friends" was led by Miss Pauline Fisher. She was assisted by Mrs. Shumaker, Mrs. Avers, Mrs. Leroy J. Aronholt and Mrs. Roth.

The meeting closed with the missionary benediction. Mrs. Robert Geissman and Mrs. Russell Fink served refreshments. Sixteen members attended.

Mothers Club Will Entertain At Dance

A complimentary dance July 24 for members of the Mothers Club and friends was announced by Mrs. Richard Kirsch at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. E. R. Kellough, Washington Street, with Mrs. John Robb hostess.

Mrs. Charles L. Kopp was guest speaker. Her topic was "Antique Glass." Mrs. Richard Johnson presided and introduced Mrs. William Barger, a new member.

Officers Installed

Martha Robertson was installed as president of the Happy Harmony Junior Music and Arts Club at a meeting at the home of Margo King, Washington Street. Mrs. Samuel Weatherholt officiated. Other officers are James Taylor, vice president; Christine Sammel, treasurer, and Barbara Syckes, secretary.

Selections pertaining to summer were played by each member. Others present were Nancy Naughton, Linda Holt, Anne Sammel, Brenda Shires, Louise Smith and Rebecca Mills.

Third Order To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Third Order of St. Francis will be held Sunday afternoon. Instructions for tertiaries will be held at 3 o'clock in the cafeteria of SS. Peter and Paul School followed by Third Order services ir the church at 3:30. Rev. Sylvan Fondriest, O.F.M. Cap., director, will conduct the services.

A rummage sale will be held from 7 until 9 tonight and 10 to 1 tomorrow at Zion Reformed Church, by Cumberland Chapter, OES.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Why Is A Certain Girl Considered Different?

Why is it that a certain girl is considered different? A quick glance at her usually confirms that she is dressed like the others. But she is rejected.

A closer look reveals she's wearing heavy make-up, and her lipstick is too dark. The natural wonder is—does this young miss have clear skin or is she trying to cover up a bad complexion with make-up? Like so many of the uninformed she may claim that she can't walk around with "this face showing." The truth is that heavy make-up makes it worse.

Her course should be to get to the root of her problem. Here are a few questions to ask herself.

1. Do you scrub your face really clean — using either your finger tips or a soft complexion brush in gentle, rotating motions?

2. Is your diet made up of sweets? Remember, all beauty is based on well-being.

3. Are you using too much lipstick, most of it too dark or too bright a shade? Most young men dislike the "girl who's so gooey-lipped you don't want to get near her."

A young person doesn't need heavy make-up. Why cover up youth. This is very precious and a once-in-a-lifetime kind of beauty.

Cleanliness and personal daintiness are really the most precious habits you can acquire for skin beauty. The beauty habits you form during youth are ones that will benefit you for a lifetime. So now is the time to form the right habits. Get help in this direction from my handy booklet, "Secrets of Skin Care." It's comprehensive and its directions are easy to follow. For your copy send 25c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to SECRETS OF CHARM, c/o this paper.

Communists' Gyrations May Have New Western Hands Bit Confused

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Western foreign ministers at Geneva may be a bit confused by the seemingly childish devotion of the Soviet delegation to procedural matters, but it would not faze such old hands as Dean Acheson, John Foster Dulles, Anthony Eden or Georges Bidault.

The new hands will just have to get accustomed to trying to extract some substantial meaning, if any, from the gyrations of the Communists.

Andrei Gromyko, hearing of President Eisenhower's assessment of the meeting so far as a Russian effort to make propaganda, might well look up in surprise and ask "Well, that's what we called it for, isn't it?"

There may be other reasons, too. It's a good guess now that one of them is to give the Reds a chance to talk their way out of Khrushchev's threat to take unilateral action designed to get the Allies out of West Berlin or, if not that, to get Red forces in.

But one of the facts of the world's current life is that the Russians are fundamentally strange to the West. If a Westerner wants to create the impression he is trying to save the world, he's willing and may deliberately choose to work in sackcloth and sit in the ashes. But the Reds are particular about where they sit, lest someone think they are being placed in an inferior position.

The traditional Soviet attitude toward small nations is that they should pose as the big powers dispose. Stalin & Co. never understood why the West would not settle everything by establishing spheres of influence willy nilly.

But suddenly the Reds are very solicitous about the feelings of the Poles and the Czechs who, on every other day of their lives, are expected to dance briskly to whatever tune the Kremlin calls.

It may be only natural that the Reds, having gotten the Ukraine and Byelorussia, two Soviet counties, into the United Nations, should expect to get Poland and Czechoslovakia into a big-power conference. More likely they never expected any such thing, but have two main objectives.

One, to appeal to the pride of the satellite peoples, and the other to create a record of protesting the numerical imbalance of a conference which isn't expected to get anywhere.

William Shakespeare's family records show different spellings of the surname.

Communists' Gyrations May Have New Western Hands Bit Confused

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Western foreign ministers at Geneva may be a bit confused by the seemingly childish devotion of the Soviet delegation to procedural matters, but it would not faze such old hands as Dean Acheson, John Foster Dulles, Anthony Eden or Georges Bidault.

The new hands will just have to get accustomed to trying to extract some substantial meaning, if any, from the gyrations of the Communists.

Andrei Gromyko, hearing of President Eisenhower's assessment of the meeting so far as a Russian effort to make propaganda, might well look up in surprise and ask "Well, that's what we called it for, isn't it?"

There may be other reasons, too. It's a good guess now that one of them is to give the Reds a chance to talk their way out of Khrushchev's threat to take unilateral action designed to get the Allies out of West Berlin or, if not that, to get Red forces in.

But one of the facts of the world's current life is that the Russians are fundamentally strange to the West. If a Westerner wants to create the impression he is trying to save the world, he's willing and may deliberately choose to work in sackcloth and sit in the ashes. But the Reds are particular about where they sit, lest someone think they are being placed in an inferior position.

The traditional Soviet attitude toward small nations is that they should pose as the big powers dispose. Stalin & Co. never understood why the West would not settle everything by establishing spheres of influence willy nilly.

But suddenly the Reds are very solicitous about the feelings of the Poles and the Czechs who, on every other day of their lives, are expected to dance briskly to whatever tune the Kremlin calls.

It may be only natural that the Reds, having gotten the Ukraine and Byelorussia, two Soviet counties, into the United Nations, should expect to get Poland and Czechoslovakia into a big-power conference. More likely they never expected any such thing, but have two main objectives.

One, to appeal to the pride of the satellite peoples, and the other to create a record of protesting the numerical imbalance of a conference which isn't expected to get anywhere.

Appeals Court Orders New Trial In Libel Suit

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals Thursday erased a $12,000 judgment against publishers of The Salisbury Times and ordered a new trial in a libel suit brought against the newspaper by the former Wicomico County sheriff.

The award was made last November to former Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt by a jury in Worchester County where the case was moved for trial.

The subject of the suit was a story about an auditor's report on the sheriff's office. The article first contained an error which caused it to read that the auditors found the sheriff's procedure for booking prisoners was "incomplete" instead of "complete."

The high court found error in the trial judge's refusal to instruct the jury regarding mitigation of damages.

The appellate opinion said the jurors should have been told that they might consider these facts, if they so found them, in mitigation of damages—that the press run was stopped when the error was discovered, efforts were made to retrieve the papers carrying the error and a correction was published next day.

Judge William L. Henderson, writing for a unanimous court, said "it is generally held that mitigation of damages is a partial defense to defamation, as tending to reduce both the general compensatory damages and to negative the express malice, or outrageous conduct, which is the basis for punitive damages."

Blue Laws Upheld

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals Thursday upheld the validity of Anne Arundel County's Sunday "blue laws."

Their constitutionality had been attacked by attorneys for "Two Guys From Harrison," a Glen Burnie merchandising store.

The laws modify a statewide "blue law" as it applies to the county. They prohibit Sunday sales with certain exceptions.

The appeal was taken on behalf of seven store employes who were fined $5 each last October for selling notebooks, floor wax, a stapler and a toy on Sunday.

In upholding the convictions, the high court said it has previously answered the argument that the law violates constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

"The basic purpose of such statutes, with their exceptions, is the civil establishment and regulation of a day of rest from work, not a law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," the opinion said.

Reddick Rebuffed

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals Thursday denied a request by Dr. Robert H. Reddick that he be released from prison under bail while appealing his forgery conviction to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Dr. Reddick was convicted last July of forging medical credentials and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The Court of Appeals upheld the conviction last February.

Man And Wife Dead In Murder-Suicide

ELKTON, Md. (AP) — A Cecil County woman and her estranged husband are dead in what State Police described as a case of murder and suicide.

Mrs. Juanita Bryan, 32, died at Wilmington (Del.) Memorial Hospital Thursday about 12 hours after she was shot with a .25 caliber pistol.

Her 37-year-old husband, Franklin Bryan, was found dead with a bullet wound in the forehead Monday night shortly after the shooting in his wife's home a few miles north of here.

State Police said the couple had been separated for about seven months.

Freighter Sails

MOSCOW (UPI)—The freighter Ivan Moskvin sailed Thursday from Leningrad with 3,000 cases of material for the Soviet exhibition in New York's Coliseum opening June 28. Included were replicas of the Soviet Sputniks, atomic instruments porcelain wares and food products.

The Rock of Gibraltar is 1,439 feet high.

Harris Succeeds Grady

BALTIMORE (AP) — Saul A. Harris, who has been serving as a deputy state's attorney since 1944, was appointed state's attorney for Baltimore Thursday to succeed J. Harold Grady.

Harris was named by the judges of the Supreme Bench.

He will take office Tuesday when Grady's resignation becomes effective. Grady will then take the oath as the new mayor of Baltimore.

The laws modify a statewide "blue law" as it applies to the county. They prohibit Sunday sales with certain exceptions.

The appeal was taken on behalf of seven store employes who were fined $5 each last October for selling notebooks, floor wax, a stapler and a toy on Sunday.

In upholding the convictions, the high court said it has previously answered the argument that the law violates constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

"The basic purpose of such statutes, with their exceptions, is the civil establishment and regulation of a day of rest from work, not a law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," the opinion said.

Reddick Rebuffed

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals Thursday denied a request by Dr. Robert H. Reddick that he be released from prison under bail while appealing his forgery conviction to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Dr. Reddick was convicted last July of forging medical credentials and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The Court of Appeals upheld the conviction last February.

Man And Wife Dead In Murder-Suicide

ELKTON, Md. (AP) — A Cecil County woman and her estranged husband are dead in what State Police described as a case of murder and suicide.

Mrs. Juanita Bryan, 32, died at Wilmington (Del.) Memorial Hospital Thursday about 12 hours after she was shot with a .25 caliber pistol.

Her 37-year-old husband, Franklin Bryan, was found dead with a bullet wound in the forehead Monday night shortly after the shooting in his wife's home a few miles north of here.

State Police said the couple had been separated for about seven months.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The freighter Ivan Moskvin sailed Thursday from Leningrad with 3,000 cases of material for the Soviet exhibition in New York's Coliseum opening June 28. Included were replicas of the Soviet Sputniks, atomic instruments porcelain wares and food products.

The Rock of Gibraltar is 1,439 feet high.

Harris Succeeds Grady

BALTIMORE (AP) — Saul A. Harris, who has been serving as a deputy state's attorney since 1944, was appointed state's attorney for Baltimore Thursday to succeed J. Harold Grady.

Harris was named by the judges of the Supreme Bench.

He will take office Tuesday when Grady's resignation becomes effective. Grady will then take the oath as the new mayor of Baltimore.

Sanford Cluett, At 84, Celebrating Invention Of "Clupak" Or Stretchable Paper

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department was whooping it up for inventors, the men who figure out everything from the latest in electronics to designing lawnmowers you can ride.

And in the thick of it, enjoying himself hugely, was Sanford L. Cluett, a sprightly youngster who is celebrating a new invention at 84.

If Sanford L. Cluett's name isn't on everyone's lips, at least it's on most of our backs.

For he invented what has become known as the sanforizing process, which keeps clothes from shrinking excessively. (In the old days, Cluett recalled Wednesday, processors stretched cloth, to get more yards out of it. Clothes made of this sometimes shrank as much as 15 per cent).

Now Cluett is working the other side of the street. He has invented a process which permits paper to stretch—its trade name is "Clupak"—and because it will stretch it will take more of a shock without tearing.

To judge by the display at the Commerce Department, you'll soon be seeing shopping bags, cement sacks, wrappers for magazines and catalogues, even water pipe, all made of stretchable paper.

Cluett turned out to be a merry little man who holds more than 200 patents, including a batch he took out when he worked for a farm machinery company.

The key to inventive success probably is summed up in a couple of random remarks.

"I'm an awful curious guy," he said. And, "if I want to have a good time, I go down to the shop and work."

But didn't he ever fail?

"Oh, yes," he said cheerfully. Seems he decided smokers were entitled to a scientifically correct pipe. So he built one of glass, to see what was going on inside, and started a machine puffing away on it.

He's sure his design is exactly right, but he's run into one complication: No pipe manufacturer has shown the slightest interest in it.

Back home in Troy, N.Y., Cluett likes to bird-watch. But like bird-watchers everywhere he soon found that squirrels are people-watchers. They watch until people put out the food for the birds, and then sashay in and eat it.

"We had a piano wire stretched for 100 feet," he said, "and we hung the bird feeder right in the middle."

This baffled, but didn't discourage, the squirrels. They tried everything, including tightwire walking. Always they'd lose their footing and wind up hanging on upside down.

Then some smart creature, the Sanford L. Cluett of squirreldom, had a brilliant idea. Why not walk the wire upside down? It worked perfectly.

Steels Lead Industrial Stocks To Record High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wall Street apparently saw a ray of hope for a peaceful steel labor settlement in the planned meeting of President Eisenhower and David McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers.

Steel stocks soared on the New York Stock Exchange, leading industrials into further new high territory, when announcement came that McDonald would visit the President in New York to attend the World Trade Fair.

U. S. Steel ran up close to 4 points, Youngstown 5½, Continental nearly 5 points, Bethlehem, National, Republic and Lukens 1½ to more than 3 points.

Metals, too, scored substantial gains with Alcoa in the lead as that company's president predicted a 20 per cent increase in production this year. Alcoa ran up close to 3. Anaconda and Magma Copper gained over 2 each.

Oils came in for a good share of the demand with gains ranging around a point to 2 in Texaco, Standard of California, Gulf, Shell and Amerada.

Sharply higher freight loadings helped stimulate demand for rails and gains in the group ranged close to 4 points in Atlantic Coast Line around 2 in Kansas City, Southern and Western Maryland.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—May rye was heavy and other grains were mixed Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell wheat was off ⅛ to 1½; corn off ⅛ to up ¼; oats unchanged to up ¼; new oats unchanged to off ⅛; rye off 1 to up ⅝; soybeans up ⅛ to ⅝.

May wheat prices dropped toward the close on further evening-up transactions. New crop contracts lost their early gains on scattered local selling. Demand was light. Commission houses and commercial interests bought fair amounts of July early in the day.

The export business was quiet, but India was reported to have bought two carloads of white wheat. Little moisture was forecast fort he Northwest, where it is needed.

Corn futures slipped to an easy level. There was scattered liquidation of May, and some commission houses sold July. May contracts also were sold by Northwest brokers. Receipts were light.

Further liquidation dropped the May rye price to $1.34 ⅝, a new low in the current move. Other rye positions were fairly steady.

Oats also were steady, with light offerings. There was moderate commission house buying, and a cash house demand for May and old July oats.

Soybeans fell off after a high start. Early trade featured heavy buying of November beans by a cash house. Local traders and commission houses sold November. Meal was higher and oils lower.

Outside markets were mostly steady. The range:

Steels Lead Industrial Stocks To Record High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wall Street apparently saw a ray of hope for a peaceful steel labor settlement in the planned meeting of President Eisenhower and David McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers.

Steel stocks soared on the New York Stock Exchange, leading industrials into further new high territory, when announcement came that McDonald would visit the President in New York to attend the World Trade Fair.

U. S. Steel ran up close to 4 points, Youngstown 5½, Continental nearly 5 points, Bethlehem, National, Republic and Lukens 1½ to more than 3 points.

Metals, too, scored substantial gains with Alcoa in the lead as that company's president predicted a 20 per cent increase in production this year. Alcoa ran up close to 3. Anaconda and Magma Copper gained over 2 each.

Oils came in for a good share of the demand with gains ranging around a point to 2 in Texaco, Standard of California, Gulf, Shell and Amerada.

Sharply higher freight loadings helped stimulate demand for rails and gains in the group ranged close to 4 points in Atlantic Coast Line around 2 in Kansas City, Southern and Western Maryland.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—May rye was heavy and other grains were mixed Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell wheat was off ⅛ to 1⅛; corn off ⅛ to up ¼; oats unchanged to up ¼; new oats unchanged to off ⅛; rye off 1 to up ⅛; soybeans up ⅛ to ½.

May wheat prices dropped toward the close on further evening-up transactions. New crop contracts lost their early gains on scattered local selling. Demand was light. Commission houses and commercial interests bought fair amounts of July early in the day.

The export business was quiet, but India was reported to have bought two cargoes of white wheat. Little moisture was forecast for he Northwest, where it is needed.

Corn futures slipped to an easy level. There was scattered liquidation of May, and some commission houses sold July. May contracts also were sold by Northwest brokers. Receipts were light.

Further liquidation dropped the May rye price to $1.34 ⅝, a new low in the current move. Other rye positions were fairly steady.

Oats also were steady, with light offerings. There was moderate commission house buying, and a cash house demand for May and old July oats.

Soybeans fell off after a high start. Early trade featured heavy buying of November beans by a cash house. Local traders and commission houses sold November. Meal was higher and oils lower.

Outside markets were mostly steady.

Baby Must Have A Well-Rounded Diet

Nutritionists and chefs have teamed together to present mother with a plan for guaranteeing baby a well-rounded diet with the minimum amount of work. "Pre-planned, pre-packaged nutrition" is the tab given to the development of foods that are more complete nutritionally than baby foods ever have been before.

With the introduction of baby foods like the high meat dinners, the Vitamin C enriched fruit juices and high protein cereal, it's a simple matter to see that baby gets the nutrients that he needs. While a mother certainly does not want to eliminate variety from a baby's diet, if the child is between 4 and 12 months of age, the following daily menu insures his getting all his nutritional requirements — except for a few additional calories.

- 4 tablespoons high protein cereal
- 1 jar strained or junior meat dinner
- ⅔ can of any of the Vitamin C enriched baby juices
- 24-32 ounces milk or formula

An additional jar and a half of fruit or a jar of pudding increases the calories to the desired number.

No one, of course, advocates serving baby the same diet every day (there are too many nutritious and delicious foods he'd miss); but it's a big comfort to know how baby food processors have simplified infant feeding and insured today's child against undernutrition.

If baby is big enough to consume a full jar of baby food, feed him right from the glass jar. If he isn't that hungry, spoon the portion to be used into an empty jar and quickly reseal and refrigerate the unused portion.

For easy mixing and serving, combine pre-cooked cereal and formula (or milk) in an empty baby food jar. It's easier than a cup or bowl to hold during feeding and there is less chance of the cereal spilling.

Take advantage of labor and money savers like strained egg yolks in glass jars. Egg white is not easily tolerated by infants, so these satin-smooth yolks, always fresh, provide the most convenient and economical way to assure baby this daily egg. Two tablespoons equal one yolk.

To prevent baby from spilling his milk or fruit juice — once he is past the bottle stage — give it to him in a spill-proof plastic or nylon tumbler.

Meat Index

With the approaching summer months, use those meat leftovers in combination with fruits or vegetables in a cold meat salad. Meat salads can afford the homemaker with many avenues of unusual combinations.

Meat Facts

Remember, price does not determine the food value of meat. The less-demanded cuts afford just as many of the minerals, vitamins and protein as do the more demanded cuts.

Bran Waffles, Cheese Sauce

- 2 eggs, separated
- 1½ cups milk
- ¾ cup whole bran cereal
- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ¼ cup melted shortening
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 pound American cheese, diced
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grains cayenne pepper
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons hot sauce

Beat egg yolks well; stir in milk and whole bran cereal; let stand about 10 minutes, until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; add to whole bran cereal mixture, stirring only until combined. Stir in cooled melted shortenings. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on preheated hot waffle iron until no steam is visible, about 8-10 minutes. Serve on heated plates with hot cheese sauce.

To make sauce, melt butter; stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add cheese and seasonings; stir until blended.

Yield: 6 servings.

Baby Must Have A Well-Rounded Diet

Nutritionists and chefs have teamed together to present mother with a plan for guaranteeing baby a well-rounded diet with the minimum amount of work. "Pre-planned, pre-packaged nutrition" is the tab given to the development of foods that are more complete nutritionally than baby foods ever have been before.

With the introduction of baby foods like the high meat dinners, the Vitamin C enriched fruit juices and high protein cereal, it's a simple matter to see that baby gets the nutrients that he needs. While a mother certainly does not want to eliminate variety from a baby's diet, if the child is between 4 and 12 months of age, the following daily menu insures his getting all his nutritional requirements — except for a few additional calories.

- 4 tablespoons high protein cereal
- 1 jar strained or junior meat dinner
- ⅔ can of any of the Vitamin C enriched baby juices
- 24-32 ounces milk or formula

An additional jar and a half of fruit or a jar of pudding increases the calories to the desired number.

No one, of course, advocates serving baby the same diet every day (there are too many nutritious and delicious foods he'd miss); but it's a big comfort to know how baby food processors have simplified infant feeding and insured today's child against undernutrition.

If baby is big enough to consume a full jar of baby food, feed him right from the glass jar. If he isn't that hungry, spoon the portion to be used into an empty jar and quickly reseal and refrigerate the unused portion.

For easy mixing and serving, combine pre-cooked cereal and formula (or milk) in an empty baby food jar. It's easier than a cup or bowl to hold during feeding and there is less chance of the cereal spilling.

Take advantage of labor and money savers like strained egg yolks in glass jars. Egg white is not easily tolerated by infants, so these satin-smooth yolks, always fresh, provide the most convenient and economical way to assure baby this daily egg. Two tablespoons equal one yolk.

To prevent baby from spilling his milk or fruit juice — once he is past the bottle stage — give it to him in a spill-proof plastic or nylon tumbler.

Meat Index

With the approaching summer months, use those meat leftovers in combination with fruits or vegetables in a cold meat salad. Meat salads can afford the homemaker with many avenues of unusual combinations.

Meat Facts

Remember, price does not determine the food value of meat. The less-demanded cuts afford just as many of the minerals, vitamins and protein as do the more demanded cuts.

Bran Waffles, Cheese Sauce

- 2 eggs, separated
- 1½ cups milk
- ¾ cup whole bran cereal
- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ¼ cup melted shortening
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 pound American cheese, diced
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grains cayenne pepper
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons hot sauce

Beat egg yolks well; stir in milk and whole bran cereal; let stand about 10 minutes, until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; add to whole bran cereal mixture, stirring only until combined. Stir in cooled melted shortenings. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on preheated hot waffle iron until no steam is visible, about 8-10 minutes. Serve on heated plates with hot cheese sauce.

To make sauce, melt butter; stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add cheese and seasonings; stir until blended.

Yield: 6 servings.

Mock Chicken Legs

Many times homemakers are unfamiliar with the term "mock chicken legs." What are they and how are they prepared? Actually they are a combination of ground veal and pork. The ground meat is molded around wooden skewers and then rolled in either cornmeal, crushed corn flakes, or bread crumbs. Usually they are prepared by either braising or pan-frying.

Nutritionist's Comment

Lean meat is important in the reducing diet — it prevents too rapid a weight loss.

Daisy Cake

Daisies hold miraculous powers—when it comes to assuring a girl of her beau's affection! Girls—here's a Daisy that will help you keep that beau . . . just make this "Daisy of a Cake" for a special party, and you can be sure the special man in your life will know he's got a daisy of a girl!

A Daisy Of A Cake

1 package golden pound cake mix
1 package lemon pudding and pie filling mix
1 package dessert topping mix
1 can (about 1⅓ cups) coconut

Prepare cake mix, pie fillings*, and dessert topping mix according to package directions. Cool cake and chill pudding and prepared topping.

Then trim ends of cake. Cut into 7 slices; cut each slice in half lengthwise to form petals as shown. Arrange petals on a 14-inch round plate or tray — with petals extending to rim of plate.

Spoon filling into center of plate. Cover each with desert topping. Sprinkle petals with flaked coconut. Chill until ready to serve. Makes 14 servings.

*Prepare as for pie filling, using 1 whole egg in place of 2 egg yolks in package recipe.

Cheese Boat Supper

1 loaf unsliced bread
4 tablespoons melted butter
½ cup shredded American cheese
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup shredded American cheese
¾ cup well-drained canned tomatoes
⅔ cup cream-style corn
½ cup finely cut green pepper
½ cup finely cut onion
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon chili powder
4 tablespoons ripe olive rings
14-inch heavyweight foil

Cut loaf of bread into 4 thick slices. To make prow of boats, cut the corners off one side of each slice. Trim off the remaining crusts. Next cut out the center of each slice, leaving a ½-inch shell. Brush boats with melted butter, sprinkle with ½-cup shredded American cheese, then place on a strip of 14-inch quilted heavyweight foil. Slip onto cookie sheet. Brown lightly in a moderate oven (350°F).

Cut sails from a strip of quilted foil, using Teruyaki sticks, straws or skewers for masts.

Melt the 2 tablespoons butter and the 1-cup of cheese over low heat. While stirring constantly add the tomatoes, corn, green pepper, onion, egg, salt and chili powder. Stir vigorously until slightly thickened. Add olives, then spoon mixture quickly into boats. Attach sails and serve.

Mock Chicken Legs

Many times homemakers are unfamiliar with the term "mock chicken legs." What are they and how are they prepared? Actually they are a combination of ground veal and pork. The ground meat is molded around wooden skewers and then rolled in either cornmeal, crushed corn flakes, or bread crumbs. Usually they are prepared by either braising or pan-frying.

Nutritionist's Comment

Lean meat is important in the reducing diet — it prevents too rapid a weight loss.

Cheese Boat Supper

1 loaf unsliced bread
4 tablespoons melted butter
½ cup shredded American cheese
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup shredded American cheese
¾ cup well-drained canned tomatoes
⅔ cup cream-style corn
½ cup finely cut green pepper
½ cup finely cut onion
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon chili powder
4 tablespoons ripe olive rings
14-inch heavyweight foil

Cut loaf of bread into 4 thick slices. To make prow of boats, cut the corners off one side of each slice. Trim off the remaining crusts. Next cut out the center of each slice, leaving a ½-inch shell. Brush boats with melted butter, sprinkle with ½-cup shredded American cheese, then place on a strip of 14-inch quilted heavyweight foil. Slip onto cookie sheet. Brown lightly in a moderate oven (350°F).

Cut sails from a strip of quilted foil, using Teruyaki sticks, straws or skewers for masts.

Melt the 2 tablespoons butter and the 1-cup of cheese over low heat. While stirring constantly add the tomatoes, corn, green pepper, onion, egg, salt and chili powder. Stir vigorously until slightly thickened. Add olives, then spoon mixture quickly into boats. Attach sails and serve.

Corn Soya Shreds Contrast To Custards

Next to ice cream, there probably is no one dessert which offers children so much eating enjoyment . . . nor greater nourishment . . . as a delicious and refreshing custard. You can increase this pleasure, however, through new and different variations of the basic custard recipe.

Cooking Time

Tongue is always prepared by cooking in liquid. Always allow 1 hour per pound for the tongue to become tender. Most beef tongues will average 3 to 4 pounds in weight.

Here is one such recipe for Crunchy Custard which is sure to please your family. Made with wholesome corn soya shreds, this recipe gives an unusual flavor and texture contrast to this favorite dessert.

Crunchy Custard

1 cup Corn Soya
3 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
4 cups milk

Put corn soya in bottom of 8 greased 1 cup custard cups. Combine eggs, sugar, nutmeg and vanilla; add milk and mix thoroughly. Pour over Corn Soya. Place custard cups in pan of hot water. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) about 1 hour or until firm.

Yield: 8 servings.

When To Season Meat Cuts

It's worth remembering that roasts may be seasoned before, during or after cooking. However, chops should be seasoned after cooking. In preparing chops or steaks, salting will tend to draw out some of the juices, thereby retarding the browning process.

Warm Days, Light Menus

As the warm fickle days of spring turn into summer, a light menu rates high on the homemaker's meal planning list.

Rice salad requires a little more preparation than the ordinary salad, but is worth it.

⅔ cup rice
½ cup olive oil
¼ cup wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon tarragon
1 cup finely cut green pepper
1 cup finely cut pimiento
1 cup finely chopped parsley
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped ripe tomato
1 cup chopped seeded cucumber

Cook rice until just tender, drain, and while still hot, add olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, pepper, and tarragon. Cool, and when thoroughly cooled, add remaining ingredients. Blend well just before serving, dress with French dressing and arrange on lettuce leaves. Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs and sliced olives. Serves six.

Wedding Breakfast

More and more brides are discovering the charms of a wedding breakfast reception, which combines the hospitality of a meal with the simplicity of morning service. For such a morning party, you can prepare a real chef's masterpiece the day before the party; cold breast of chicken filled with pate, set on a slice of ham and glazed with a delectable covering sauce which makes this a perfect buffet dish. French chefs call this kind of dish Chaud-Froid, which means hot-cold, because it is prepared hot, then served chilled. The individual glazed chicken servings are as practical as they are pretty, no carving needed at the table.

The entire menu can be prepared in advance, so that when the party returns for wedding breakfast, it is set out and served with deceptive ease — a delicious triumph.

Punch
Melon Filled with Fruits
Chicken Breasts Supreme
Green Salad with Avocado and Tomato Wedges
Hot Herb Biscuits—Heart Shaped Wedding Cake, Ice Cream Forms, Coffee

Chicken Breasts Supreme

(Chaud-Froid)
6 chicken breasts
1½ quarts water
1 carrot
1 bay leaf
2 stalks celery
½ cup white wine
1 tablespoon salt
Dash nutmeg

Have the butcher bone and skin the breasts. Save skin and bones for stock. Cut breasts in half lengthwise, trim neatly. Place remaining 7 ingredients in deep 12-inch skillet or wide pan with the skin and bones. Bring to boil. Remove skin and bones. Slide 6 of the chicken breast halves into water. With 2 spoons, quickly shape into ovals. Cover and simmer 15 to 20 minutes, or until meat is tender and white. Repeat with remaining breasts. Cool in liquid. To complete supreme:

3 cans (4½ oz. each) liver pate
1 tablespoon minced chives
2 tablespoons sour cream
¼ teaspoon thyme
3 slices boiled ham
1½ envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons sherry
1½ cups chicken consomme or bouillon
6 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ cup light cream
2 or 3 scallions
1 or 2 hard-cooked egg whites

Combine liver pate with chives, sour cream. Turn breasts upside down and fill with liver mixture. Cut ham slices in quarters. Fit over bottom of filling, tucking edges in to fit chicken oval. Place right side up on a platter. Chill. Sprinkle the 1½ envelopes gelatin over the sherry. Heat consomme. Stir gelatin in consomme to dissolve. Mix mayonnaise with light cream. Add to gelatin mixture. Chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Spoon over chicken. If mixture gets too firm, heat slightly over hot water to soften. Chicken may need a second coat of sauce to mask it completely.

For Lily of the Valley trim, cut scallion greens into strips to form a leaf and 2 branches down the center of each chicken breast. Cut tiny rounds of egg white. Place 3 rounds down the side of each leaf, pressing lightly into glaze. Chill until serving time. Serve on a bed of greens with avocado slices and tomato wedges. Yield: 12 servings.

Herb Biscuits

2 cups flour, sifted
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon snipped fresh parsley
⅓ cup shortening
⅔ cups light cream
2 tablespoons melted butter

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; add parsley. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Add cream and mix to smooth dough. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead lightly. Roll or pat ½ inch thick. Brush with part of the melted butter. Fold dough over and reroll or pat. Cut with heart-shaped biscuit cutter. Brush with remaining butter. Bake in very hot oven at 450° F. for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 14 small biscuits.

Taffy Banana Milk Shake

1 fully ripened banana
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses
Dash of salt

Mash banana until creamy and smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Serve immediately.

Molasses Sundae Sauce

½ cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
⅓ cup evaporated milk

Combine unsulphured molasses, sugar, salt, and water in sauce pan. Cook for 10 minutes or until candy thermometer registers 230° F.—or when a small amount dropped in very cold water forms a soft ball. Add butter and vanilla. Cool slightly; stir in evaporated milk. Pour over chopped nuts and whipped cream. Yield: 1 cup.

On storage, if sauce becomes too thick, thin with small amount of water or evaporated milk.

Corn Soya Shreds Contrast To Custards

Next to ice cream, there probably is no one dessert which offers children so much eating enjoyment . . . nor greater nourishment . . . as a delicious and refreshing custard. You can increase this pleasure, however, through new and different variations of the basic custard recipe.

Cooking Time

Tongue is always prepared by cooking in liquid. Always allow 1 hour per pound for the tongue to become tender. Most beef tongues will average 3 to 4 pounds in weight.

Here is one such recipe for Crunchy Custard which is sure to please your family. Made with wholesome corn soya shreds, this recipe gives an unusual flavor and texture contrast to this favorite dessert.

Crunchy Custard

1 cup Corn Soya
3 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
4 cups milk

Put corn soya in bottom of 8 greased 1 cup custard cups. Combine eggs, sugar, nutmeg and vanilla; add milk and mix thoroughly. Pour over Corn Soya. Place custard cups in pan of hot water. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) about 1 hour or until firm.

Yield: 8 servings.

When To Season Meat Cuts

It's worth remembering that roasts may be seasoned before, during or after cooking. However, chops should be seasoned after cooking. In preparing chops or steaks, salting will tend to draw out some of the juices, thereby retarding the browning process.

Warm Days, Light Menus

As the warm fickle days of spring turn into summer, a light menu rates high on the homemaker's meal planning list.

Rice salad requires a little more preparation than the ordinary salad, but is worth it.

⅔ cup rice
½ cup olive oil
¼ cup wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon tarragon
1 cup finely cut green pepper
1 cup finely cut pimiento
1 cup finely chopped parsley
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped ripe tomato
1 cup chopped seeded cucumber

Cook rice until just tender, drain, and while still hot, add olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, pepper, and tarragon. Cool, and when thoroughly cooled, add remaining ingredients. Blend well just before serving, dress with French dressing and arrange on lettuce leaves. Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs and sliced olives. Serves six.

Wedding Breakfast

More and more brides are discovering the charms of a wedding breakfast reception, which combines the hospitality of a meal with the simplicity of morning service. For such a morning party, you can prepare a real chef's masterpiece the day before the party; cold breast of chicken filled with pate, set on a slice of ham and glazed with a delectable covering sauce which makes this a perfect buffet dish. French chefs call this kind of dish Chaud-Froid, which means hot-cold, because it is prepared hot, then served chilled. The individual glazed chicken servings are as practical as they are pretty, no carving needed at the table.

The entire menu can be prepared in advance, so that when the party returns for wedding breakfast, it is set out and served with deceptive ease — a delicious triumph.

Chicken Breasts Supreme

(Chaud-Froid)

6 chicken breasts
1½ quarts water
1 carrot
1 bay leaf
2 stalks celery
½ cup white wine
1 tablespoon salt
Dash nutmeg

Have the butcher bone and skin the breasts. Save skin and bones for stock. Cut breasts in half lengthwise, trim neatly. Place remaining 7 ingredients in deep 12-inch skillet or wide pan with the skin and bones. Bring to boil. Remove skin and bones. Slide 6 of the chicken breast halves into water. With 2 spoons, quickly shape into ovals. Cover and simmer 15 to 20 minutes, or until meat is tender and white. Repeat with remaining breasts. Cool in liquid. To complete supreme:

3 cans (4½ oz. each) liver pate
1 tablespoon minced chives
2 tablespoons sour cream
¼ teaspoon thyme
3 slices boiled ham
1½ envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons sherry
1½ cups chicken consomme or bouillon
6 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ cup light cream
2 or 3 scallions
1 or 2 hard-cooked egg whites

Combine liver pate with chives, sour cream. Turn breasts upside down and fill with liver mixture. Cut ham slices in quarters. Fit over bottom of filling, tucking edges in to fit chicken oval. Place right side up on a platter. Chill. Sprinkle the 1½ envelopes gelatin over the sherry. Heat consomme. Stir gelatin in consomme to dissolve. Mix mayonnaise with light cream. Add to gelatin mixture. Chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Spoon over chicken. If mixture gets too firm, heat slightly over hot water to soften. Chicken may need a second coat of sauce to mask it completely.

For Lily of the Valley trim, cut scallion greens into strips to form a leaf and 2 branches down the center of each chicken breast. Cut tiny rounds of egg white. Place 3 rounds down the side of each leaf, pressing lightly into glaze. Chill until serving time. Serve on a bed of greens with avocado slices and tomato wedges. Yield: 12 servings.

Herb Biscuits

2 cups flour, sifted
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon snipped fresh parsley
⅓ cup shortening
⅔ cups light cream
2 tablespoons melted butter

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; add parsley. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. Add cream and mix to smooth dough. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead lightly. Roll or pat ½ inch thick. Brush with part of the melted butter. Fold dough over and reroll or pat. Cut with heart-shaped biscuit cutter. Brush with remaining butter. Bake in very hot oven at 450° F. for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 14 small biscuits.

Taffy Banana Milk Shake

1 fully ripened banana
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses
Dash of salt

Mash banana until creamy and smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Serve immediately.

Molasses Sundae Sauce

½ cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
⅓ cup evaporated milk

Combine unsulphured molasses, sugar, salt, and water in sauce pan. Cook for 10 minutes or until candy thermometer registers 230° F.—or when a small amount dropped in very cold water forms a soft ball. Add butter and vanilla. Cool slightly; stir in evaporated milk. Pour over ice cream. If desired, top with chopped nuts and whipped cream. Yield: 1 cup.

Keeping A Country In The Family

Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo will celebrate 29 years of iron-fisted rule over the Dominican Republic on Saturday. And so, to paraphrase Pinafore, will his brother and his cousins whom he reckons up by dozens and his sons.

For Trujillo has done a remarkably expert job of keeping the country, so to speak, in the family. Brother Hector is president of the Republic. Rafael Jr. is a general and chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. A nephew, Jose, is secretary of defense. Another nephew, Luis, is secretary of war and aviation. A second son, Rhadames, was a major at 13. (It may be that Rhadames is a trifle backward: Rafael Jr. was a general at 9).

Even the in-laws seem to get into the act. Porfirio Rubirosa, briefly the husband of much-married daughter Flor de Oro, has served Trujillo as a diplomat in between marriages and flirtations—which, of course, means he hasn't served very much.

Nor has Trujillo neglected himself in this divvying up of jobs. When he handed over the presidency to Hector in 1952, Trujillo held on to the reins of the Pardido Dominicano, to which all members of the cabinet and the legislature belong. And he has an absolute hold on the country's 14,000-man army, the best in the Caribbean. This power monopoly entitles Trujillo to the title Benefactor of the Fatherland, bestowed by the Dominican Congress, which also thoughtfully renamed historic Santo Domingo as Ciudad Trujillo in 1936.

At Last! The Reason!

How easy it is to find a single cause for all our difficulties and a single solution for all our problems! Anthony B. Meany has all the answers. He worked them out after years of study. Nobody else quite reached the same conclusions but who is to say that one man's judgment is not as good as another's? So let us have a look at what Anthony B. Meany has discovered about the ills of mankind:

"Gas and oil producers supply millions of radio listeners with baseball and various kinds of 'free' home entertainment, actually removing necessity of product by keeping cars in garages.

"Hat makers sponsor fight programs. Prolong life of headgear. Hold 20 to 50 millions at home with hats off.

"Auto industry furnish indoor musicals, 'free,' keeping car wheels from turning, thereby saving wear and tear of automobiles. Retarding transportation, prosperity's greatest factor.

"Soap companies' operettas, spellbinding us in our living rooms—keeping our bodies and wearing apparel cleaner—and soap bills fewer.

"Cosmetic radio dramas reduce need for going outdoors and more cosmetics.

"Magazines engage radio story tellers. Cut down potential reading time.

"Newspapers donate full pages to radio programs; the arch enemy of the printed word. Ofttimes a cheaper substitute for daily papers.

"Clothing and fur makers radio-chaining us to armchairs. Reduce our demand for out-door apparel, men and machines at the farm and factory and money at the market place.

"Children's Programs at home keep them quiet and inactive. Decrease need of clothes, shoes, bread and other food energy.

"And so on and on, day and night, promoting mass inactivity and underconsumption, paralyzing industry, ever since the inception of commercial chain broadcasting."

There is this much reason in what Anthony B. Meany says: if you stay at home and watch television, you do not wear out shoe leather or the tires of a car. Also you do not eat more hot dogs than you need to and do not get indigestion and therefore do not buy indigestion remedies. Therefore you add to the unemployment. But suppose a man likes to sit home, by the fireside, his wife knitting a pair of socks, his dog snoring, television murdering somebody, all in peace and contentment—must he wear a hat in the house to increase employment?

Surely Meany is not opposed to the family system and love and all that. He writes me that he has spent 30 years seeking for a solution to our problem of unemployment and that "our economists have overlooked these factors in their approach to this most serious problem of our times." I must say that the economists often overlook much but they are usually simple men who rarely become rich out of their knowledge.

The point I wish to make is that there is no one cause for our troubles and there is not one solution. The complications of modern life are so numerous, the world has become so large and its population so multitudinous that hundreds of small factors enter into every question that the world faces today.

When we thought in terms of Europe and America only and regarded the rest of the world as colonies, as weak and backward areas not to be taken too seriously, to be shot down when they became troublesome, life was much simpler. But today these very weak and backward peoples, black, yellow and brown, are asserting themselves in a manner that cannot be ignored.

In fact, it may so happen before many decades that we shall be more concerned about the upsurge of these colonial peoples than about conflicts in Europe. It may even come to pass that the Russians become as concerned, if not as frightened as the West is, about this population explosion in Asia and Africa and its effect upon the rest of the world.

I quoted Meany's analysis only to show how easy it is to lay down a cause and to find a solution for anything. But causes are really difficult to discover; solutions are even more difficult to find. Karl Marx found an answer in economic determinism but that has not proved to be the answer because spiritual, emotional, traditional, religious factors have proved equally significant in the reaction of peoples to the course of events. Life grows more complicated. The solutions to its problems grow more complex.

Secrecy In Government Is Real Issue In Quizzing Of Strauss

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The lengthy cross-examination of Adm. Lewis L. Strauss to be Secretary of Commerce has been described by Sen. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, former campaign manager for Thomas E. Dewey, as nit-picking.

"A journey into the territory of trivia," he calls it. Most Senators, however, disagree. More and more who have followed the testimony feel that it boils down to two all-important questions. They are:

1. Did Strauss deceive the President, the American people, and the Congress in his activities as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission? If so, Senate critics believe he would also be deceptive as Secretary of Commerce.

2. Has Strauss so broadened the question of "executive privilege" that both Congress and the public are denied their right of knowing what the executive branch of government is doing?

In other words, will the government continue to operate in a gold fish bowl as during most of our 180 years, or will it operate in a Kremlin?

The restrictions placed by Admiral Strauss on giving information to Congress are the most severe ever imposed by a high official in time of peace. They set a high watermark for peacetime censorship. Many Senators want to make sure this doesn't constitute a precedent, and Senate approval of the Admiral to be Secretary of Commerce probably would.

Kremlin-Type Secrecy

Here are the facts: Admiral Strauss operates on the theory that whenever he talks to a member of the White House staff about about any subject whatsoever, then he is automatically excused from giving Congress any information on that subject. In other words, all he, or any other bureaucrat, has to do is pick up the phone and call a member of the White House staff and discuss a matter on which Congress may want information. After that, they are vested with the right to deny information on that subject to Congress.

Reason Senators are alarmed is that this is a brand new doctrine; second, it can be used as an all-embracing cover-up of anything embarrassing to any bureaucrat.

For instance, when Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico served as Secretary of Agriculture, he was asked by Congress to give it the names of those speculating in the grain market. This was embarrassing. It was even more embarrassing to the White House. For President Truman's personal physician, Dr. Wallace Graham, had been speculating.

Anderson, however, got a ruling from the Attorney General that he, Anderson, should give Congress the information, and he did. He believed there was no "executive privilege" regarding commodity speculators merely because the information involved the White House.

Unbudgeable Admiral

Admiral Strauss, on the contrary, has flatly refused to give Congress information regarding the Dixon-Yates contract, the biggest conflict-of-interest case since Teapot Dome. And he still refuses. Testifying before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee recently, he stated that even if the Attorney General rules that he should testify he would not do so.

Time after time during the Dixon-Yates hearings, Strauss refused to answer questions. Senators particularly wanted to know who had led President Eisenhower out on a limb with his statement of June 29, 1955, that "Mr. Wenzell was never called in or asked a single thing about the Dixon-Yates contract."

The President has made this erroneous statement in denying this writer's account of a secret nocturnal conference between Admiral Strauss, Adolphe Wenzell, the banker's representative planted inside the Budget Bureau, and others. Someone obviously had led the President astray with false information, and the Senators wanted to know who.

But Admiral Strauss refused to talk. His counsel, William Mitchell, was asked whether Strauss was following his advice.

"I can tell you, Senator, I did not advise him on this," Mitchell told Kefauver of Tennessee.

"Did you get any advice?" asked Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

"No sir, I have not," Strauss replied.

"Then your judgment about what is privileged and what is not is your own?"

"It will have to stand on that, Senator," replied Strauss.

Senator O'Mahoney, a noted constitutional lawyer, then explained that Congress had written the law establishing the Atomic Energy Commission so that nothing could be done without the knowledge of the people's representative in Congress.

"And I say to you, Admiral, and I say to you, Mr. Mitchell, in all sincerity that in a matter of this policy every patriotic servant of the government should come forward and say 'this is the story'."

But Admiral Strauss still refused to answer the questions. And recently testifying before another committee of the Senate, the Interstate Commerce Committee, Strauss made it clear he still would not answer them.

Thus Admiral Strauss has broadened the so-called executive privilege first by refusing to answer questions from two Senate committees; second by doing so entirely on his own authority.

The Conference On Nuclear Weapons Tests

By David Lawrence

GENEVA — More important than the four-power conference is another international proceeding which has been going on here for six months and which concerns far more directly the future peace of the world. It's the long-drawn-out but fateful conference between the Soviet Union and the West over the question of whether the testing of nuclear weapons shall be permanently prohibited by a treaty signed by all nations.

On its face this means merely stopping the tests, but actually it means more — subsequent pressure to ban the use of nuclear weapons altogether in time of war.

The sessions on nuclear tests are for the moment in recess till June 8 because it is impracticable for two conferences to be going on simultaneously, as the foreign ministers cannot possibly give attention to both subjects at the same time. But before the recess was agreed upon, the Russians were moving eagerly and with surprising speed toward agreement on as many articles of the proposed treaty as possible. The articles remaining, of course, are the big ones and will receive the most careful scrutiny later on, with the chances of an agreement within many months being anybody's guess.

Back of all this, however, is one big and all-pervasive question. Why do the Soviets want an agreement at all? Are they merely exhibiting that humaneness of spirit which has been so conspicuously absent in their attitude toward other international problems? Are they worried about the possible acquisition of new weapons by Red China and other nations? If the Soviets already have more missiles than the West and are scientifically "ahead of us," as the anti-administration politicians in the United States so often declare, then why do the Russians think we would ever agree to stop testing to get better ones? Also, what is the real truth about nuclear tests—are they as damaging as has been claimed?

The most reliable information available here is baffling. For the expert scientists on the Allied side do not agree. You can find some who say that any "fallout" is dangerous today, others who say it may be dangerous ten or a hundred years from now, and still others who say there is far more danger from natural radioactivity that has nothing to do with nuclear tests.

But granting that tests are mildly injurious — and the Soviets have been responsible for initiating the world-wide alarm about tests, aided and abetted by some Communist stooges in the scientific field in nearly every country — the question remains as to what the Soviets hope to gain by the proposed ban. The real answer probably is that the Soviets feel they have enough weapons now to devastate any enemy country, and they are well aware that the United States has three times more than would be necessary to destroy all of the Soviet Union. It becomes urgent, therefore, to keep any other nations, especially the irresponsible ones, from getting nuclear weapons. Can the information be kept secret? There is reason to believe it can be. It is significant that the Soviets do not send as much nuclear data to their own satellites as the United States does to its allies. Maybe they don't trust them. Unquestionably a serious purpose is behind the whole Soviet desire to restrict testing by any nation.

There are, to be sure, many motivating considerations. Thus, the expense of testing is enormous. The British are feeling this already, but the Russians see it as an even bigger burden upon them. If, therefore, there are enough weapons to destroy an enemy, why make any more? That's the Soviet argument, and it looks plausible on its face. But once tests are banned, will the use of the weapons themselves be outlawed? If so, the Soviet Union can dominate Europe with its "conventional" forces, and, if the propaganda to compel the withdrawal of large bodies of NATO troops from the continent of Europe and to bring about the abandonment of military bases for American forces is successful, then the Kremlin will have achieved, in effect, a military victory without firing a shot.

What will the United States Senate do about any agreement signed here? Will it be ratified, and will the American people debate it extensively before making up their minds? Accepting it will involve a calculated risk—that the Soviets will never cheat. For all the inspection systems devised probably will not be foolproof. There are some advantages, it is argued, in getting into Soviet areas to inspect what's going on. But nobody really thinks the inspectors will be able to see everything or that, if a crisis comes, they will be able to communicate anything to their home governments.

Also, if the Russians violate the agreement, will the Western powers have the temerity to denounce a treaty on nuclear testing, especially in the face of a world-wide opinion that has been frightened by "fallout" propaganda? Small wonder the conference here on nuclear tests has lasted six months already and may go on for months — or even years.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Secretary of State Christian Herter emerged from his first test with flying colors. Herter's signal success at the meeting of Western powers' foreign ministers is a principal topic of discussion in the Washington diplomatic corps.

The April 27 meeting in Paris was a preliminary to the East-West foreign ministers' meeting taking place in Geneva. Many experienced diplomats shook their heads at what faced Herter as a new and untried Secretary of State with precious little time to prepare for the vital discussions designed to shape a united Western position for the Geneva talks.

In fact, a compelling reason for President Eisenhower to make the appointment of a successor to John Foster Dulles when he did was that time was running out in the pre-conference period. Dulles realized this even more than did the President. It was Dulles, himself, who urged the President not to delay longer in accepting his resignation and naming his successor.

Herter had one big thing going for him. He had worked as Dulles' assistant in the State Department for the better part of two years and was completely familiar, not only with United States foreign policy lines, but with Dulles' and the President's own personal views of world developments.

The big question surrounding Herter's success or failure was whether he had the necessary streak of hardness and bargaining ability so necessary in dealing with today's critical world developments. In view of the vast majority of free world diplomats in Washington he has proved his mettle. They are breathing easier.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

He had a young face in an old head. The china blue eyes were buried in a ruddy complexion. The hands on the bedsheet were long and listless. He had the best bed in the ward, next to the bay window. I said: How are things? He shook his head. "Nobody ever gave me a break," he said.

This was the last stop for Frank. The doctors tried the new wonder drugs on him, but Frank's tuberculosis was far gone. His pneumothorax was eight years old and he treated the other lung as though oxygen was too good for it.

The hair on this pillow had once been black and wavy. Many a feminine finger had deepened the waves. Now it was the color of a marble marker. Where it pressed against the pillow, it stood out straight. The lips, thin and concave from lack of teeth, had once been full. They had traced other lips in braille.

The fingers, still thin and feminine, had lifted many a toast. Now, at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 6 p. m., one of them turned palm upward to receive a dropped pill. Sometimes, both hands were laced in prayer. Frank had come a long way.

"Nobody ever gave me a break". . .

Frank had been a bright youngster. At 20, he was a bank teller. He spent everything he earned on clothes, fun and girls. He never gave his mother a nickel because, as Frank said so often: "She never asked me for anything."

He was a good sport. His money was quick on the bar. Still, Frank's deep love was not liquor. Nor women. It was himself. He never saw the merchandise in a store window. He saw his own reflection. He used cold cream on his skin at night and the onset of a pimple was enough to keep Frank out of circulation for a week.

The position as bank teller might have led to better things, but Frank reported sick on too many successive Mondays. For awhile, he was office manager for a real estate firm. His personality was electrifying. Somehow, Frank always ended his business deals as the adopted pal of the clients, but no homes were sold.

He could tell a good story, and he stroked a fair piano. He was sympathetic to those who had problems, and he could lift a woman out of the blues with a smile and a glance. He made every party he attended, and people always begged him to come back again.

When Frank's mother died, he realized that he had lost his financial anchor. He needed an anchor. So he married a girl who wanted to be his slave. She got her wish. He got his too, because she had a good job and a trust fund.

Theresa made one mistake. She assumed that, because Frank had married her, that he belonged to her. This was a childish notion and it embarrassed Frank. At least once every few months, he had to explain again why he could not take her with him to parties, and why it was all right for him to meet other women.

Ladies, it seems, always rebel when it is too late. Theresa left Frank when her older daughter was 6 and the younger was 4. If it crushed this man, he hid it ably. So far as I know, he never missed a party or a drink. Sometimes, in later years, when the conversation became domestic in character, he would tell, a little misty-eyed, about his two big girls and how their mother kept them from him.

After the war, Frank's age began to show a little around the seams. He talked about hunting a job, but he never seemed to have the time. Frank became a perennial week-end guest. His wardrobe was good; his conversation was bright. Ladies with money took turns adopting him temporarily.

One dawn, the police found him slumped against the wheel of a parked foreign car. He was bleeding from the mouth. There had been no accident. From that time on, he had been a guest at several hospitals. Whenever his tests became negative, Frank was discharged and "took it easy" at all night parties.

Now he was in a charity ward. This was the last stop. There was 82 cents on the night table. Frank looked at me a long time. "Some people get everything," he said. "Nobody ever gave me a break". . .

Fat Children Grow Up To Be Fat Adults

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

So many youngsters are overweight during late childhood and adolescence, the condition might be considered normal. The situation is different with those who have been obese throughout their entire childhood. These boys and girls are good candidates for a corpulent adulthood.

This is why weight problems need early attention even though, according to A. G. Mullins, their chances of reducing may not be too good. Some of these blubberly youngsters are not too intelligent and studies have shown they do not cooperate when placed on a diet. Dr. Mullins also found that the overweight adult who was a chubby child was likely to become extremely obese because of his large appetite or nervous habits.

Many tubby children have fat parents. This brings up the question of heredity, which has been tossed about in medical circles for years but never has been answered to the satisfaction of all concerned. Many physicians discount this origin of obesity.

They consider the cause to be poor example and the kind of food served at the family table rather than the genes. The parents consume too many calories and the children follow suit. Others believe that sensations of hunger or delayed satiety are inherited characteristics, basing their evidence on studies made on laboratory mice, not humans.

Regardless of the cause of obesity, most chubby boys and girls eat too much and exercise too little. In some a hearty appetite is traced to emotional or psychological difficulties. These youngsters are unhappy and withdrawn and nibbling on food brings them consolation. A few are victims of a glandular disorder.

These factors are taken into consideration when the physician tries to inveigle a fat child to eat less. The entire family must cooperate by encouraging junior to indulge in food only at mealtime. Nothing is accomplished through razzing or threats. Motivation is the best stimulus. Without it, the youngsters will find a way to cheat on eating.

Tomorrow: Nervous stomach or spastic colon.

HUBBY HAS INDIGESTION

Mrs. T. writes: Everything my husband eats gives him indigestion. How can this be cured?

REPLY

Since there are numerous causes of indigestion, he may be blaming food whereas worry, overwork, ulcer, or gall bladder disease is responsible. Some digestive disturbances stem from a food substance, such as milk or corn, to which the person is allergic. Why not ask your husband to have a checkup?

GRAYBEARD

B. V. writes: I'm 67 and haven't a gray hair on my scalp. But the beard I'm raising is coming out gray. Why?

REPLY

Hair depigmentation follows various patterns. Some persons are gray all over whereas others are gray only in certain areas. Many white-haired women, for example, have a dark streak at the nape of the neck.

SURPRISE: HE'S HEALTHY

R. P. H. writes: Recently I had a physical, and much to my surprise was found to be in good physical condition even though I weigh only 148 pounds and I'm 6' 1" in height. Do you think the doctor is right?

REPLY

Yes. A person can be in good health even though he does not meet the weight standards for age, height, and sex. The Ivy League type of figure encourages a long, healthy life.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Testifying before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee recently, he stated that even if the Attorney General rules that he should testify he would not do so.

Time after time during the Dixon-Yates hearings, Strauss refused to answer questions. Senators particularly wanted to know who had led President Eisenhower out on a limb with his statement of June 29, 1955, that "Mr. Wenzell was never called in or asked a single thing about the Dixon-Yates contract."

The President had made this erroneous statement in denying this writer's account of a secret nocturnal conference between Admiral Strauss, Adolphe Wenzell, the banker's representative planted inside the Budget Bureau, and others. Someone obviously had led the President astray with false information, and the Senators wanted to know who.

But Admiral Strauss refused to talk. His counsel, William Mitchell, was asked whether Strauss was following his advice.

"I can tell you, Senator, I did not advise him on this," Mitchell told Kefauver of Tennessee.

"Did you get any advice?" asked Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

"No sir, I have not," Strauss replied.

"Then your judgment about what is privileged and what is not is your own?"

"It will have to stand on that, Senator," replied Strauss.

Senator O'Mahoney, a noted constitutional lawyer, then explained that Congress had written the law establishing the Atomic Energy Commission so that nothing could be done without the knowledge of the people's representative in Congress.

"And I say to you, Admiral, and I say to you, Mr. Mitchell, in all sincerity that in a matter of this policy every patriotic servant of the government should come forward and say 'this is the story'."

But Admiral Strauss still refused to answer the questions. And recently testifying before another committee of the Senate, the Interstate Commerce Committee, Strauss made it clear he still would not answer them.

Thus Admiral Strauss has broadened the so-called executive privilege first by refusing to answer questions from two Senate committees; second by doing so entirely on his own authority.

The Conference On Nuclear Weapons Tests

By David Lawrence

GENEVA — More important than the four-power conference is another international proceeding which has been going on here for six months and which concerns far more directly the future peace of the world. It's the long-drawn-out but fateful conference between the Soviet Union and the West over the question of whether the testing of nuclear weapons shall be permanently prohibited by a treaty signed by all nations.

On its face this means merely stopping the tests, but actually it means more — subsequent pressure to ban the use of nuclear weapons altogether in time of war.

The sessions on nuclear tests are for the moment in recess till June 8 because it is impracticable for two conferences to be going on simultaneously, as the foreign ministers cannot possibly give attention to both subjects at the same time. But before the recess was agreed upon, the Russians were moving eagerly and with surprising speed toward agreement on as many articles of the proposed treaty as possible. The articles remaining, of course, are the big ones and will receive the most careful scrutiny later on, with the chances of an agreement within many months being anybody's guess.

Back of all this, however, is one big and all-pervasive question. Why do the Soviets want an agreement at all? Are they merely exhibiting that humaneness of spirit which has been so conspicuously absent in their attitude toward other international problems? Are they worried about the possible acquisition of new weapons by Red China and other nations? If the Soviets already have more missiles than the West and are scientifically "ahead of us," as the anti-administration politicians in the United States so often declare, then why do the Russians think we would ever agree to stop testing to get better ones? Also, what is the real truth about nuclear tests—are they as damaging as has been claimed?

The most reliable information available here is baffling. For the expert scientists on the Allied side do not agree. You can find some who say that any "fall-out" is dangerous today, others who say it may be dangerous ten or a hundred years from now, and still others who say there is far more danger from natural radioactivity that has nothing to do with nuclear tests.

But granting that tests are mildly injurious — and the Soviets have been responsible for initiating the world-wide alarm about tests, aided and abetted by some Communist stooges in the scientific field in nearly every country — the question remains as to what the Soviets hope to gain by the proposed ban. The real answer probably is that the Soviets feel they have enough weapons now to devastate any enemy country, and they are well aware that the United States has three times more than would be necessary to destroy all of the Soviet Union. It becomes urgent, therefore, to keep any other nations, especially the irresponsible ones, from getting nuclear weapons. Can the information be kept secret? There is reason to believe it can be. It is significant that the Soviets do not send as much nuclear data to their own satellites as the United States does to its allies. Maybe they don't trust them. Unquestionably a serious purpose is behind the whole Soviet desire to restrict testing by any nation.

There are, to be sure, many motivating considerations. Thus, the expense of testing is enormous. The British are feeling this already, but the Russians see it as an even bigger burden upon them. If, therefore, there are enough weapons to destroy an enemy, why make any more? That's the Soviet argument, and it looks plausible on its face. But once tests are banned, will the use of the weapons themselves be outlawed? If so, the Soviet Union can dominate Europe with its "conventional" forces, and, if the propaganda to compel the withdrawal of large bodies of NATO troops from the continent of Europe and to bring about the abandonment of military bases for American forces is successful, then the Kremlin will have achieved, in effect, a military victory without firing a shot.

What will the United States Senate do about any agreement signed here? Will it be ratified, and will the American people debate it extensively before making up their minds? Accepting it will involve a calculated risk—that the Soviets will never cheat. For all the inspection systems devised probably will not be foolproof. There are some advantages, it is argued, in getting into Soviet areas to inspect what's going on. But nobody really thinks the inspectors will be able to see everything or that, if a crisis comes, they will be able to communicate anything to their home governments.

Also, if the Russians violate the agreement, will the Western powers have the temerity to denounce a treaty on nuclear testing, especially in the face of a world-wide opinion that has been frightened by "fallout" propaganda? Small wonder the conference here on nuclear tests has lasted six months already and may go on for months — or even years.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Secretary of State Christian Herter emerged from his first test with flying colors. Herter's signal success at the meeting of Western powers' foreign ministers is a principal topic of discussion in the Washington diplomatic corps.

The April 27 meeting in Paris was a preliminary to the East-West foreign ministers' meeting taking place in Geneva. Many experienced diplomats shook their heads at what faced Herter as a new and untried Secretary of State with precious little time to prepare for the vital discussions designed to shape a united Western position for the Geneva talks.

In fact, a compelling reason for President Eisenhower to make the appointment of a successor to John Foster Dulles when he did was that time was running out in the pre-conference period. Dulles realized this even more than did the President. It was Dulles, himself, who urged the President not to delay longer in accepting his resignation and naming his successor.

Herter had one big thing going for him. He had worked as Dulles' assistant in the State Department for the better part of two years and was completely familiar, not only with United States foreign policy lines, but with Dulles' and the President's own personal views of world developments.

The big question surrounding Herter's success or failure was whether he had the necessary streak of hardness and bargaining ability so necessary in dealing with today's critical world developments. In view of the vast majority of free world diplomats in Washington he has proved his mettle. They are breathing easier.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

He had a young face in an old head. The china blue eyes were buried in a ruddy complexion. The hands on the bedsheet were long and listless. He had the best bed in the ward, next to the bay window. I said: How are things? He shook his head. "Nobody ever gave me a break," he said.

This was the last stop for Frank. The doctors tried the new wonder drugs on him, but Frank's tuberculosis was far gone. His pneumothorax was eight years old and he treated the other lung as though oxygen was too good for it.

The hair on this pillow had once been black and wavy. Many a feminine finger had deepened the waves. Now it was the color of a marble marker. Where it pressed against the pillow, it stood out straight. The lips, thin and concave from lack of teeth, had once been full. They had traced other lips in braille.

The fingers, still thin and feminine, had lifted many a toast. Now, at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 6 p. m., one of them turned palm upward to receive a dropped pill. Sometimes, both hands were laced in prayer. Frank had come a long way.

"Nobody ever gave me a break". . .

Frank had been a bright youngster. At 20, he was a bank teller. He spent everything he earned on clothes, fun and girls. He never gave his mother a nickel because, as Frank said so often: "She never asked me for anything."

He was a good sport. His money was quick on the bar. Still, Frank's deep love was not liquor. Nor women. It was himself. He never saw the merchandise in a store window. He saw his own reflection. He used cold cream on his skin at night and the onset of a pimple was enough to keep Frank out of circulation for a week.

The position as bank teller might have led to better things, but Frank reported sick on too many successive Mondays. For awhile, he was office manager for a real estate firm. His personality was electrifying. Somehow, Frank always ended his business deals as the adopted pal of the clients, but no homes were sold.

He could tell a good story, and he stroked a fair piano. He was sympathetic to those who had problems, and he could lift a woman out of the blues with a smile and a glance. He made every party he attended, and people always begged him to come back again.

When Frank's mother died, he realized that he had lost his financial anchor. He needed an anchor. So he married a girl who wanted to be his slave. She got her wish. He got his too, because she had a good job and a trust fund.

Theresa made one mistake. She assumed that, because Frank had married her, that he belonged to her. This was a childish notion and it embarrassed Frank. At least once every few months, he had to explain again why he could not take her with him to parties, and why it was all right for him to meet other women.

Ladies, it seems, always rebel when it is too late. Theresa left Frank when her older daughter was 6 and the younger was 4. If it crushed this man, he hid it ably. So far as I know, he never missed a party or a drink. Sometimes, in later years, when the conversation became domestic in character, he would tell, a little misty-eyed, about his two big girls and how their mother kept them from him.

After the war, Frank's age began to show a little around the seams. He talked about hunting a job, but he never seemed to have the time. Frank became a perennial week-end guest. His wardrobe was good; his conversation was bright. Ladies with money took turns adopting him temporarily.

One dawn, the police found him slumped against the wheel of a parked foreign car. He was bleeding from the mouth. There had been no accident. From that time on, he had been a guest at several hospitals. Whenever his tests became negative, Frank was discharged and "took it easy" at all night parties.

Now he was in a charity ward. This was the last stop. There was 82 cents on the night table. Frank looked at me a long time. "Some people get everything," he said. "Nobody ever gave me a break". . .

Fat Children Grow Up To Be Fat Adults

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

So many youngsters are overweight during late childhood and adolescence, the condition might be considered normal. The situation is different with those who have been obese throughout their entire childhood. These boys and girls are good candidates for a corpulent adulthood.

This is why weight problems need early attention even though, according to A. G. Mullins, their chances of reducing may not be too good. Some of these blubberly youngsters are not too intelligent and studies have shown they do not cooperate when placed on a diet. Dr. Mullins also found that the overweight adult who was a chubby child was likely to become extremely obese because of his large appetite or nervous habits.

Many tubby children have fat parents. This brings up the question of heredity, which has been tossed about in medical circles for years but never has been answered to the satisfaction of all concerned. Many physicians discount this origin of obesity.

They consider the cause to be poor example and the kind of food served at the family table rather than the genes. The parents consume too many calories and the children follow suit. Others believe that sensations of hunger or delayed satiety are inherited characteristics, basing their evidence on studies made on laboratory mice, not humans.

Regardless of the cause of obesity, most chubby boys and girls eat too much and exercise too little. In some a hearty appetite is traced to emotional or psychological difficulties. These youngsters are unhappy and withdrawn and nibbling on food brings them consolation. A few are victims of a glandular disorder.

These factors are taken into consideration when the physician tries to inveigle a fat child to eat less. The entire family must cooperate by encouraging junior to indulge in food only at mealtime. Nothing is accomplished through razzing or threats. Motivation is the best stimulus. Without it, the youngsters will find a way to cheat on eating.

Tomorrow: Nervous stomach or spastic colon.

HUBBY HAS INDIGESTION

Mrs. T. writes: Everything my husband eats gives him indigestion. How can this be cured?

REPLY

Since there are numerous causes of indigestion, he may be blaming food whereas worry, overwork, ulcer, or gall bladder disease is responsible. Some digestive disturbances stem from a food substance, such as milk or corn, to which the person is allergic. Why not ask your husband to have a checkup?

GRAYBEARD

B. V. writes: I'm 67 and haven't a gray hair on my scalp. But the beard I'm raising is coming out gray. Why?

REPLY

Hair depigmentation follows various patterns. Some persons are gray all over whereas others are gray only in certain areas. Many white-haired women, for example, have a dark streak at the nape of the neck.

SURPRISE: HE'S HEALTHY

R. P. H. writes: Recently I had a physical, and much to my surprise was found to be in good physical condition even though I weigh only 148 pounds and I'm 6' 1" in height. Do you think the doctor is right?

REPLY

Yes. A person can be in good health even though he does not meet the weight standards for age, height, and sex. The Ivy League type of figure encourages a long, healthy life.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

"I'm shocked," declared the dean of a Connecticut seat of higher learning, "to hear that your mother is taking in washing to send you through this college. Are you lifting one finger to help her?" "I certainly am," insisted the worthy collegian. "For one thing, I'm sending home all my laundry."

An unsuccessful contestant in a beauty contest returned home exhausted and disgruntled. A friend, attempting to console her, asked, "Was the competition very stiff?" "No," answered the contestant bitterly, "but the judges were."

Traffic Club Hears Talk On U.S. Transportation

Members of the Tri-State Traffic Club and guests at their dinner meeting Wednesday were told by Gerald W. Collins, manager of transportation and communication department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington, that "no single facet of our economic process could be more important than transportation."

Collins then said: "Perhaps we have established that the U. S. does enjoy the world's finest transportation facility and we can agree that it is an important factor in our way of life. But, the main point I want to dwell on is — how efficiently are we using these modern facilities.

"Unhappily, I am afraid we are not getting anywhere near the maximum productivity that we should or could. Our transport agencies today are operating, not only with the handicap of excessive government regulation, but even more importantly, they are hobbled by outmoded and debilitating work rules that deny the public and the nation the benefit of improved efficiency.

"Over the years, special interest groups and short-sighted leadership have permitted the development of special privilege working agreements which have produced a thing called pay for work not performed. Some people refer to it as 'featherbedding.' This has been encouraged by labor unions in an effort to preserve the 'status quo' insofar as their job security is concerned, with the result that the public is denied the benefit of lower costs which normally flow from such progress and technological development.

"The railroad industry has established that it costs the industry—and that means you and me as freight payers or consumers — 500 million dollars a year just to preserve this so-called 'status quo' for the railroad labor unions."

Collins said it also affects the operation of other industries such as the airlines, merchant marine, longshoremen, and motor carriers.

"Besides being wholly immoral, it feeds the fires of inflation which threatens the entire financial stability of the nation," Collins said. "This failure to permit efficient use of our transport facility has another aspect which I consider even more serious," Collins declared.

"It reflects on our ability as a nation to compete price-wise with foreign competition—in foreign markets as well as in our own domestic market. Without considering the very real threat posed by Soviet Russia, let's look for a minute at the competition which we can expect from friendly nations in Europe and elsewhere."

Collins then cited a statement by Ernest Breech, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Company, on his return from a visit to Europe. The motor firm official said there is tremendous strength and growth in the economy of Europe since 1950. Their company is overtaking us at accelerated pace, Breech is quoted by Collins.

Collins said the American people and industry can meet foreign competition by improved productivity and to achieve this goal, all elements of our economy, labor, management and government must accept their responsibility. Management must step up its research and development programs, labor must curb its zealous drive for more and more pay increases and taxes must be set by government to encourage capital improvements.

The United States government won the right to take land in any state for federal purposes in 1875.

New Germany Boys Camp Reported Back In Order

The Department of Welfare has taken steps to straighten out the situation at State Forestry Camp No. 3 at New Germany.

Ray Manella, chief of the division, said in Baltimore yesterday that David Curran, field supervisor, had been assigned to investigate reports of brutality and runaways from the three forestry camps for boys in Western Maryland.

Curran said yesterday that the population at the New Germany Camp has been reduced, and that he has ordered the staff doubled to insure additional supervision.

Curran said the camp was back to normal yesterday and that the three "ring leaders" have been transferred to the Maryland Training School for Boys in Baltimore.

The case developed Wednesday when three youths who had walked away from the New Germany Camp informed authorities that they had been "beaten" by older youths at the camp. The three were lodged in the Frostburg City Jail until the situation could be checked.

Curran said yesterday that two of the boys have been transferred from the jail to another camp, and that the third boy was sent back to New Germany on his own request.

Curran said he interviewed all 16 boys at the camp. He said the boys were on a recreation trip in a truck when they started a "rough house." The field supervisor said he was informed the rough-housing got out of hand, and two of the boys were "pushed around in good clean fun."

Manella said in Baltimore today: "We are quite concerned about the runaways and reported assault. If the trouble is of a serious nature, we will even prosecute the boys." (Eleven boys have been reported as runaways from the area camps within the past week. Nine have been picked up, and two are listed still at large.)

The camps at New Germany, Lonaconing and Green Ridge Mountain are for youths 16 years and older, who are selected on an "honor basis" from the Maryland Training School for Boys and Boys Village. The camps have a total bed capacity of 80.

The youths, Manella said, are in some cases recommended by judges for assignment to the camps to complete their rehabilitation and speed their discharge from custody. There are no guards at the camps and the grounds are not enclosed.

Registration To Begin For Girl Scout Camp

Registrations open Saturday for Camp Tioga, Cumberland Girl Scout Council Camp near Flintstone, and the Cumberland Day Camp to be held at Constitution Park.

Members of both camp committees will be at the Girl Scout House, 72 Greene Street in Cumberland from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m. to accept registrations. Registrations may also be mailed in for processing by the committee Saturday and next Saturday, May 23.

Registrations for the Frostburg Day Camp will start Thursday, June 11, at the Scout Room, First Methodist Church, Frostburg.

This year's brochure of the three camps operated by the Cumberland Council contains photos of camp activities. A supply of these folders was given to each of the 72 troops for distribution among members.

Most Scouts have earned part of their camping fees through selling Girl Scout cookies and some have saved part of the fee by buying camp savings stamps at their troop meetings. The camping program is a continuation of the troop program and the camping committees hope that as many scouts as possible of the 1,450 in the council will take advantage of the summer day camps or established camp.

Camping committees include: Karl G. Perry, general chairman.

Established Camp—Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bobo, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cioni, Thomas Elias, Mr. and Mrs. Aden Everstine, Mrs. Patrick Hogan, Miss Irene Lapp, Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Perry, Joseph C. Mooney.

Cumberland Day Camp — Mrs. William D. Claus, chairman, Mrs. E. T. Beachley, Mrs. Edward Milbrada, Mrs. William P. Lawrence.

Frostburg Day Camp — Mrs. G. Alvin Kreiling, chairman, Mrs. C. Gordon Taylor, Mrs. Walter Kerr, Mrs. Clyde Settle.

Troop Camp — Mrs. Everstone, chairman, Miss Pauline Fisher.

Mrs. George J. Miller is Cumberland Council president and Miss Olive Hurlburt, Scout executive.

Oakland Mayor Proclaims Poppy Day

Legion, Auxiliary Sponsor Campaign

OAKLAND—Mayor Russell C. Smith proclaimed May 23, Poppy Day in Oakland, where the American Legion Auxiliary, Proctor Kildow Unit No. 71, will conduct its annual Poppy sale on the streets of the town Saturday, May 23, in observance of national and state Poppy Day. Headquarters for the day will be at the West Maryland Power Company office. Girl Scouts of Oakland will assist in the sale.

The Poppy committee for the unit includes Mrs. Mary Bittinger, Mrs. Hazel Gower, Mrs. Cleda B. Stewart, and Mrs. Darlene Paugh.

Proceeds from the sale are divided as follows: After paying for the Poppies which are made at one of the VA hospitals in Baltimore, 15 per cent of the money collected will be sent to the state department for rehabilitation and child welfare programs. The remaining amount is left in the county, where the Legion Auxiliary uses the local amount for child welfare and rehabilitation.

Mrs. Cleda B. Stewart, Mt. District vice president, said some of the local money had been used for glasses for needy children, food and clothing for needy children and families at Christmas time, and help for needy children in general at various intervals during the year. Funds are also available for needy veterans and families during the year.

The poppies are made of red crepe paper, by hand, by disabled veterans in hospitals. Workers, who make the poppies, receive small remuneration for each poppy made and the material is furnished free by the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Maryland. More than 25 million poppies are made each year.

Poppies bloomed in abundance on the battle fields of France where many men had fallen in battle in World War I, and a replica of the Poppy has become the Memorial flower for the Legion and its auxiliary.

Alumni Unit Honors Fort Hill Letter Winners

The 11th annual dinner for the senior letter winners of Fort Hill High School was held Tuesday evening in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran Church, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Avenue-Fort Hill High School Alumni Association.

Delbert Proudfoot, president of the association, welcomed the student and faculty guests, and introduced Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney and member of the Class of 1945, who was toastmaster. Rev. Donald C. Brake, member of the Class of 1951, delivered the invocation and benediction.

Musical selections were sung by James Hager, member of the Class of 1948, and the Fort Hill High Boys Ensemble, under the direction of Harold Hanson.

Brief talks and congratulations were extended to the group by J. Goodloe Jackson, member of the Allegany County Board of Education; Victor D. Heisey, principal of Fort Hill, and John McVicker, vice principal.

Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State College, Keyser, was the principal speaker. In his address, Dr. Church stressed the challenge posed by the youth of Soviet Russia. Dr. Church recently made an educational tour in that country.

He cited the seriousness of purpose that apparently motivates Soviet youth, even permeating his leisure and play. Dr. Church told the group that it is not ability but direction of abilities that we must meet.

Finland, in 1858, was the first country to include manual training in its schools.

It is estimated that the average person goes to the movies nine times a year.

If there are more than five rooms in a boarding house, it can be called a hotel.

Early Wynn Turns Back Bosox, 14-6

Torgeson, Ennis, Landis Hit Homers For The Pale Hose

BOSTON (AP)—Chicago blended 19 hits and Early Wynn's 254th major league pitching triumph Thursday in a runaway 14-6 decision over Boston which nudged the White Sox to within half a game of the American League lead.

While Wynn coasted before Turk Lown relieved him in the eighth inning, his mates fell on four Red Sox pitchers in a barrage which included home runs by Earl Torgeson, Del Ennis and Jim Landis.

Burly, poker-faced Wynn had a three-hit shutout through five innings before he relaxed under a bountiful lead.

While increasing his total—highest among active major league hurlers—Wynn took over undisputed possession of 21st place among the all-time winners with his fifth triumph of the young campaign. Previously he had been tied at 253 in the lifetime figures with Red Faber, Carl Hubbell and Amos Rusie.

Garver, Daley Hold Orioles To Four Hits

Maris Poles Eighth In KC's 2-1 Triumph

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitchers Ned Garver and Bud Daley limited Baltimore to four hits Thursday night as the Kansas City Athletics edged out the Orioles 2-1.

Roger Maris slammed his eighth home run of the season over the right-center field fence for the A's first marker, in the second inning. The Athletics scored their winning run in the seventh on three singles and Oriole catcher Joe Ginsberg's error on a dropped ball at the plate.

Baltimore's only moment of glory was rookie Willie Tasby's solo home run opening the bottom of the fourth. It was his third of the year.

Milwaukee Braves Defeat Cards, 8-7

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Hank Aaron's bases-loaded double capped a five-run sixth inning to spark the Milwaukee Braves to an 8-7 victory over St. Louis Thursday night as a Cardinal rally fell short in the ninth inning.

Aaron's sixth inning hit, which drove in three runs, was his third of the game and bolstered his league-leading average to .487. It also marked the 19th consecutive game in which he has batted safely.

Early Wynn Turns Back Bosox, 14-6

Torgeson, Ennis, Landis Hit Homers For The Pale Hose

BOSTON (AP)—Chicago blended 19 hits and Early Wynn's 254th major league pitching triumph Thursday in a runaway 14-6 decision over Boston which nudged the White Sox to within half a game of the American League lead.

While Wynn coasted before Turk Lown relieved him in the eighth inning, his mates fell on four Red Sox pitchers in a barrage which included home runs by Earl Torgeson, Del Ennis and Jim Landis.

Burly, poker-faced Wynn had a three-hit shutout through five innings before he relaxed under a bountiful lead.

While increasing his total—highest among active major league hurlers—Wynn took over undisputed possession of 21st place among the all-time winners with his fifth triumph of the young campaign. Previously he had been tied at 253 in the lifetime figures with Red Faber, Carl Hubbell and Amos Rusie.

The Caseys remained as the only unbeaten team in the league by whipping the Glassmen on a two-hitter by Sheetz.

Pittsburgh Plate took a 2-0 lead in the fourth when Bob Koeiker was safe on a two-base error and Clay Ingram and "Bub" Frye singled.

The Knights filled the bases on two errors and a single by Norman Sell in the fifth and "Brindle" Long's hit sent over two runs and knotted the count at 2-2. Then George Geatz delivered in the clutch with a two-bagger that sent over the winning tallies.

The V.F.W. trailed 3-2 going into the 5th stanza when timely hits by Phil Reuschel and Vern Penner turned the tide.

Elliott slammed a triple and single, "Bub" Porter a double and single, Reuschel got a pair of base knocks and "Beef" Corbin pounded a three-bagger for the Vets. Davis and Wolford had two hits each for the Silkmen who suffered their third straight setback.

Crampton, Sanders Set Pace In Snead Tourney With 67s

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, and Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., stuck their comparatively young golfing faces out in front of a gang of old pros in the first round of the Sam Snead Festival Thursday. They each scored 3-under-par 67s.

The 23-year-old Crampton, posted his 67 as the fifth finisher. The score wasn't matched until 25-old Sanders, returning to competition after a layoff due to a heart murmur, holed out as last of the 56 pros shooting for $10,000 in prizes during the 72-hole tournament.

Six others, including host Snead, missed by only one stroke. The others with 68s were Frank Boynton of Winter Park, Fla., Johnny Revolta of Skokie, Ill., Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Bob Toski of Miami and Dutch Harrison of St. Louis, Mo.

Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N.Y., and Henry Williams of Fleetwood, Pa., were in the group with 69s. Six others were bunched at par 70.

Walker Cup Golf Tests Open Today

British And U.S. Meet In Scotland

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Eight Americans who never have been paired together before in competition will open defense of the Walker Cup golf prize against a seasoned British team Friday.

The two amateur teams will start off with four Scotch foursome matches. These two-ball matches, in which each player on a team takes alternate swings at the ball, may be strange to the Americans but they play them well.

They have outscored the British every time but once in Walker Cup foursomes.

On Saturday, the competition winds up with eight singles matches. Each match is over 36 holes and each victory counts a point. A tie counts a half point for each side.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco and Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., start play for the Americans at 9 a.m. GMT (4 a.m., EST) against Reid Jack of Scotland and Doug Sewell of England.

After 18 holes the same four will go out at 1:15 p.m. (8:15 a.m., EST) for the afternoon round.

The other pairings:

Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, and Tommy Aaron of Gainsville, Ga., against Joe Carr of Ireland and Guy Wolstenholme of England.

Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., and Capt. Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City against Michael Bonallack and Arthur Perowne, both of England.

Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo and Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, against Michael Lunt and Alec Shepperton, both of England.

Floyd "Pete" Elliott, who relieved Day in the fourth, yielded only one hit in four innings and was credited with the win, his second against as many losses.

Elliott slammed a triple and single, "Bub" Porter a double and single, Reuschel got a pair of base knocks and "Beef" Corbin pounded a three-bagger for the Vets. Davis and Wolford had two hits each for the Silkmen who suffered their third straight setback.

Underdonk Blanks Moose

Bill Underdonk tossed a three-hitter to register win No. 2 as the Elks turned back the Moose tossers. Bill also aided his own cause by blasting a homer to left-center in the 6th inning.

The Elks scored twice in the fourth on Junior Hardy's hit, Bob Pence's fielder's choice, Manager "Pooch" Orndorff's second single of the game and "Whip" Kreitzburg's sacrifice fly to right field. In the 7th, Kreitzburg walked and completed the circuit on two errors and a fielder's choice.

McGregor, Head and Lambert collected the three hits given up by Underdonk. Dick Klavuhn, former Elks' hurler, was the loser. The scores:

Crampton, Sanders Set Pace In Snead Tourney With 67s

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, and Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., stuck their comparatively young golfing faces out in front of a gang of old pros in the first round of the Sam Snead Festival Thursday. They each scored 3-under-par 67s.

The 23-year-old Crampton, posted his 67 as the fifth finisher. The score wasn't matched until 25-old Sanders, returning to competition after a layoff due to a heart murmur, holed out as last of the 56 pros shooting for $10,000 in prizes during the 72-hole tournament.

Six others, including host Snead, missed by only one stroke. The others with 68s were Frank Boynton of Winter Park, Fla., Johnny Revolta of Skokie, Ill., Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Bob Toski of Miami and Dutch Harrison of St. Louis, Mo.

Jim Turnesa of Elmsford, N.Y., and Henry Williams of Fleetwood, Pa., were in the group with 69s. Six others were bunched at par 70.

Walker Cup Golf Tests Open Today

British And U.S. Meet In Scotland

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Eight Americans who never have been paired together before in competition will open defense of the Walker Cup golf prize against a seasoned British team Friday.

The two amateur teams will start off with four Scotch foursome matches. These two-ball matches, in which each player on a team takes alternate swings at the ball, may be strange to the Americans but they play them well.

They have outscored the British every time but once in Walker Cup foursomes.

On Saturday, the competition winds up with eight singles matches. Each match is over 36 holes and each victory counts a point. A tie counts a half point for each side.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco and Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., start play for the Americans at 9 a.m. GMT (4 a.m., EST) against Reid Jack of Scotland and Doug Sewell of England.

After 18 holes the same four will go out at 1:15 p.m. (8:15 a.m., EST) for the afternoon round.

The other pairings:

Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, and Tommy Aaron of Gainsville, Ga., against Joe Carr of Ireland and Guy Wolstenholme of England.

Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., and Capt. Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City against Michael Bonallack and Arthur Perowne, both of England.

Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo and Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, against Michael Lunt and Alec Shepperton, both of England.

Preakness Field Cut To Eleven

Black Hills Out Of Saturday Race

BALTIMORE (AP) — The field for the $150,000-added Preakness stakes was reduced to 11 Thursday when the King Ranch's Black Hills was withdrawn because of an apparent internal ailment.

The first official entry was the Elkcam Stable's Open View, who also worked out on the sloppy Pimlico racing strip in the early hours.

"I might just as well put him in now," said Ray Metcalf, trainer of Open View, who finished eighth in the Kentucky Derby May 2.

Max Hirsch, who trains Black Hills for the Texas ranch of Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., withdrew the black son of Princequillo after the colt worked a mile in 1:48 3-5.

With 11 starters in the race, to be televised nationally (CBS) from 4:30-5 p.m., EST, the gross value would be $190,300—the richest race ever offered for 3-year-olds. Post time is approximately 4:45 p.m. EST.

Sword Dancer, owned by the Brookmeade Stable of Isable Dodge Sloane, and nosed out by Tomy Lee in the derby, is the favorite at 2-1.

Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, champion 2-year-old of 1958 and third in the derby, was rated second choice at 3-1 in early odds. Mrs. Halina Braunstein's Royal Orbit, fourth in the derby, was listed at 9-2 and Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler, not eligible for the derby, was 6-1.

Reds Win 2-0 On Bell's Hit

Gus' Single In 9th Beats Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Gus Bell's two-run single with one out in the ninth powered the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

Lefty Joe Nuxhall, who pitched a three-hitter, earned his second victory.

Lefty Bill Henry replaced Hillman and fanned Jerry Lynch for the first out.

Henry was replaced by Don Elston, who walked Frank Robinson to fill the bases.

Robinson was out trying for for third, but the damage was done.

Donald Campbell Sets New Water Speed Mark

Britisher's 260.35 MPH Is Made In Jet Powered Bluebird

CONISTON, England (AP) — Speed king Donald Campbell Thursday zoomed to a new world water speed record of 260.35 miles an hour in his jet-powered Bluebird. He announced he plans to try for 300 in Canada next year.

Campbell's new mark—his sixth in just over three years — easily beat his old record of 248.62 m.p.h. set on Lake Coniston last November.

The 37-year-old ace, son of former British speed king Sir Malcolm Campbell, has his eye on the land speed record too.

He will try to shatter the record of 394.2 m.p.h. on Sept. 3 next year at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah. The late Sir John Cobb established the record there in 1947.

Coniston, in the heart of Britain's scenic lake district, was in perfect condition Thursday. The water was like a mirror, the day bright.

Campbell's first run over the measured kilometer (five-eighths of a mile) was 275.15 m.p.h. He roared back in 245.55 m.p.h. The record is the average of the two runs.

Campbell said he had no idea as yet where in Canada he would make his attempt next year.

From 1954 until this year, Saylor, now 35, was the professional at the Andrews Air Force Base.

While at Burning Tree, Saylor gave Vice President Richard Nixon his first golf lesson. President Eisenhower plays over the same course.

Mike McCormick Tosses 3-Hitter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Young Mike McCormick lost his bid for a no-hitter in the eighth inning and settled for a three-hit shutout Thursday as the San Francisco Giants whipped Philadelphia 8-0.

Pinch hitter Granny Hamner got the first Philadelphia hit, a double, with one out in the eighth inning. The Phils added two singles in the ninth before the 20-year-old left-hander—winning his first game of the season—closed out the victory.

Until Hamner's hit to deep right center, only one other Philly had reached base off the 20-year-old bonus southpaw. Richie Ashburn walked in the fourth.

Giant batters provided the fast-throwing McCormick with a cushion as both Willie Mays and Leon Wagner homered for the second straight game and Daryl Spencer added another.

The loss went to Ray Semproch, who gave up 7 runs in the first 3 2-3 innings.

McCormick struck out nine and issued just the one walk.

Black Hills Out Of Saturday Race

BALTIMORE (AP) — The field for the $150,000-added Preakness stakes was reduced to 11 Thursday when the King Ranch's Black Hills was withdrawn because of an apparent internal ailment.

The first official entry was the Elkcam Stable's Open View, who also worked out on the sloppy Pimlico racing strip in the early hours.

"I might just as well put him in now," said Ray Metcalf, trainer of Open View, who finished eighth in the Kentucky Derby May 2.

Max Hirsch, who trains Black Hills for the Texas ranch of Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., withdrew the black son of Princequillo after the colt worked a mile in 1:48 3-5.

With 11 starters in the race, to be televised nationally (CBS) from 4:30-5 p.m., EST, the gross value would be $190,300—the richest race ever offered for 3-year-olds. Post time is approximately 4:45 p.m. EST.

Sword Dancer, owned by the Brookmeade Stable of Isable Dodge Sloane, and nosed out by Tomy Lee in the derby, is the favorite at 2-1.

Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, champion 2-year-old of 1958 and third in the derby, was rated second choice at 3-1 in early odds. Mrs. Halina Braunstein's Royal Orbit, fourth in the derby, was listed at 9-2 and Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler, not eligible for the derby, was 6-1.

Reds Win 2-0 On Bell's Hit

Gus' Single In 9th Beats Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Gus Bell's two-run single with one out in the ninth powered the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

Lefty Joe Nuxhall, who pitched a three-hitter, earned his second victory.

The scoreless battle between Nuxhall and loser Dave Hillman, now 2 and 2, ended in the ninth when Johnny Temple opened with a double. Vada Pinson followed with a single to right and Temple stopped at third.

Lefty Bill Henry replaced Hillman and fanned Jerry Lynch for the first out.

Henry was replaced by Don Elston, who walked Frank Robinson to fill the bases.

With a 1 and 2 count on Bell, Elston fed the veteran Reds' outfielder a high slow ball that Gus drove into left field for a tide-turning single. It scored Temple and Pinson.

Robinson was out trying for for third, but the damage was done.

Donald Campbell Sets New Water Speed Mark

Britisher's 260.35 MPH Is Made In Jet Powered Bluebird

CONISTON, England (AP) — Speed king Donald Campbell Thursday zoomed to a new world water speed record of 260.35 miles an hour in his jet-powered Bluebird. He announced he plans to try for 300 in Canada next year.

Campbell's new mark—his sixth in just over three years — easily beat his old record of 248.62 m.p.h. set on Lake Coniston last November.

The 37-year-old ace, son of former British speed king Sir Malcolm Campbell, has his eye on the land speed record too.

He will try to shatter the record of 394.2 m.p.h. on Sept. 3 next year at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah. The late Sir John Cobb established the record there in 1947.

Coniston, in the heart of Britain's scenic lake district, was in perfect condition Thursday. The water was like a mirror, the day bright.

Campbell's first run over the measured kilometer (five-eighths of a mile) was 275.15 m.p.h. He roared back in 245.55 m.p.h. The record is the average of the two runs.

Campbell said he had no idea as yet where in Canada he would make his attempt next year.

From 1954 until this year, Saylor, now 35, was the professional at the Andrews Air Force Base.

While at Burning Tree, Saylor gave Vice President Richard Nixon his first golf lesson. President Eisenhower plays over the same course.

Mike McCormick Tosses 3-Hitter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Young Mike McCormick lost his bid for a no-hitter in the eighth inning and settled for a three-hit shutout Thursday as the San Francisco Giants whipped Philadelphia 8-0.

Pinch hitter Granny Hamner got the first Philadelphia hit, a double, with one out in the eighth inning. The Phils added two singles in the ninth before the 20-year-old left-hander—winning his first game of the season—closed out the victory.

Until Hamner's hit to deep right center, only one other Philly had reached base off the 20-year-old bonus southpaw. Richie Ashburn walked in the fourth.

Giant batters provided the fast-throwing McCormick with a cushion as both Willie Mays and Leon Wagner homered for the second straight game and Daryl Spencer added another.

The loss went to Ray Semproch, who gave up 7 runs in the first 3 2-3 innings.

McCormick struck out nine and issued just the one walk.

Despite the very bad trump break which declarer encountered today, he could have brought home his contract if his technique had been a bit more careful.

The contract was reasonable. South opened with one no trump and North had ample values for a raise to game, but he decided to employ the two club convention to probe for a suit contract. Whether he should have done so with his high card strength well scattered is questionable, but any normal spade break would have made the final contract a laydown. South, of course, showed his four card major and North raised to four.

West opened the nine of diamonds. The trick was won with the queen and, with 10 tricks in plain view, declarer led a trump only to meet with a rebuff when East showed out.

Three club losers were inevitable and West's five trumps apparently must yield him one trick. Declarer saw that if he could cash six tricks in the red suits he could bring home the hand. This would be easy if West held three hearts and three diamonds (leaving him with two clubs). South, therefore, started by attempting to cash three hearts, but when the third round was ruffed hope of the contract went up in smoke.

South had started out with the right idea, but his execution was not the best. He should have played diamonds first rather than hearts (though he could afford to cash just two hearts and then switch to diamonds). On the third round of diamonds he merely discards one of the dummy's hearts and now when he leads the third round of hearts, even though West is out of the suit, declarer is in a position to ruff with one of the dummy's high trumps. Now he can still make four trump tricks which with the six he has already taken, gives him his contract.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent, sad bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, William T. Allen. We especially wish to thank Father Larkin and Father Montgomery, those who sent floral tributes, the pallbearers, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral, the Hafer Funeral Home and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.

THE FAMILY.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear daughter Hilda who passed away five years ago May 15, 1954.
Dear daughter years have rolled on,
But the days are counted
For each smile you gave us,
The tears we shed
On our pillow each night.
For God knows best, dear daughter—
Your memory is still with use as always.
Sadly missed by
MOTHER, FATHER & BRO.
MR. & MRS. JAKE WALKER.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent, sad bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, William T. Allen. We especially wish to thank Father Larkin and Father Montgomery, those who sent floral tributes, the pallbearers, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral, the Rafer Funeral Home and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.

THE FAMILY.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear daughter Hilda who passed away five years ago May 15, 1954.

Dear daughter years have rolled on,
But the days are counted
For each smile you gave us,
The tears we shed
On our pillow each night.
For God knows best, dear daughter—
Your memory is still with use as always.

Sadly missed by
MOTHER, FATHER & BRO.
MR. & MRS. JAKE WALKER.

Victory On Dunlop Tires at Sebring

Dear Andy:

The results of the 12-Hour International Endurance Sports Car Race at Sebring, Florida, March 21st, are a triumph for Dunlop Tires and Dunlop Brakes. This is one of the most important Sports Car Race in America and the only one which qualifies for the International Sports Car Racing Calendar.

Participants came from many countries to make this a 100% International Event. The outright winners were drivers Phil Hill and Oliviea Gendebien with a Ferrari on Dunlop Racing Tires and Dunlop Disc Brakes. Phil Hill is the outstanding American driver today with victories in Europe and the United States.

In second place, Jean Behra and Cliff Allison, also in a Ferrari with Dunlop Tires and Dunlop Brakes. Dunlop had double the number of cars equipped with our tires than any other tire manufacturer. As well as the outright winner of the race, we had five class wins on Dunlop tires.

This is the biggest news we have ever had to help in the sale of Dunlop tires, domestic as well as imports. This race proves that Dunlop products will withstand the most rigorous of sports car races in America.

Confidentially, Dunlop racing tires were lasting almost twice as long as comparable tires on the identical type of race car and, of course, this saves pit-stop time and was invaluable in helping the winners to be first over the finish line.

We had absolutely no tire troubles in spite of very varied weather conditions. Remember, the essential experience gained in making the finest racing tires goes towards building our current Dunlop range that you are selling. WE HAVE A TIRE THAT NOBODY CAN BEAT! ! !

Signed —
B. E. JAMES.

See how Dunlop Tires stand up under the grueling pace at the Cumberland Auto Races May 15, 16, 17. Then see "Andy" for the best tire values in town!

Victory On Dunlop
Tires at Sebring

Dear Andy:

The results of the 12-Hour International Endurance Sports Car Race at Sebring, Florida, March 21st, are a triumph for Dunlop Tires and Dunlop Brakes. This is one of the most important Sports Car Race in America and the only one which qualifies for the International Sports Car Racing Calendar.

Participants came from many countries to make this a 100% International Event. The outright winners were drivers Phil Hill and Oliviea Gendebien with a Ferrari on Dunlop Racing Tires and Dunlop Disc Brakes. Phil Hill is the outstanding American driver today with victories in Europe and the United States.

In second place, Jean Behra and Cliff Allison, also in a Ferrari with Dunlop Tires and Dunlop Brakes. Dunlop had double the number of cars equipped with our tires than any other tire manufacturer. As well as the outright winner of the race, we had five class wins on Dunlop tires.

This is the biggest news we have ever had to help in the sale of Dunlop tires, domestic as well as imports. This race proves that Dunlop products will withstand the most rigorous of sports car races in America.

Confidentially, Dunlop racing tires were lasting almost twice as long as comparable tires on the identical type of race car and, of course, this saves pit-stop time and was invaluable in helping the winners to be first over the finish line.

We had absolutely no tire troubles in spite of very varied weather conditions. Remember, the essential experience gained in making the finest racing tires goes towards building our current Dunlop range that you are selling. WE HAVE A TIRE THAT NOBODY CAN BEAT!!!

Signed —
B. E. JAMES.

Traffic Plans Readied For Sports Car Races

Traffic movement, spectator protection and parking will be the primary concerns of authorities this weekend as thousands of persons will be going to the Sports Car Races on the Municipal Airport at Wiley Ford.

Local police and authorities of neighboring West Virginia will be making every effort to keep the traffic moving. They asked that motorists cooperate.

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn yesterday afternoon made last-minute plans with William G. Barger, general chairman of a committee set up by the Lions Club to assure spectator protection and to cope with the traffic and parking problems at the airport.

Mr. Barger said that eight or ten volunteer fire companies will be at the scene with equipment including pumpers and ambulances. Assistance will be given by Auxiliary Police of Cumberland, Boy Scouts and military units, he said.

Fire Engine, Ambulances

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said yesterday a reserve pumper of the Cumberland Fire Department will be at the port from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. tomorrow and Sunday and will be manned by two firemen and an officer.

Mrs. George Legge, executive secretary of the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross, said arrangements have been made to have two fully-equipped first aid tents set up on the grounds.

On duty will be two nurses at each tent, eight persons prepared to render first aid, and members of the Motor Corps.

Chief Flynn informed Mr. Barger that on Sunday policemen will be on duty at the intersections of Baltimore and Park streets; Harrison and Park streets; Maryland Avenue and Williams Street; Virginia Avenue and Oldtown Road, Second Street, Laing Avenue, Bowen Street and River Avenue.

Peak Traffic At 5 P. M.

Policemen will also be on duty on River Avenue at the Wiley Ford Bridge and at the George Washington Crossing from Greene Street to Ridgeley.

The bulk of the highway traffic is expected between 5 and 6 p. m. Sunday as motorists leave the races.

Prior to the races, Chief Flynn said, there will be two-way traffic on River Avenue but after the races there will be one-way traffic north on that avenue in the direction of Cumberland.

After traffic leaves Cumberland and crosses Wiley Ford bridge it will be up to West Virginia authorities to keep it moving.

Six Nominees On Slate For RC Election

Six local and area persons have been nominated for the executive board of the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross, Mrs. George Legge, executive secretary announced yesterday.

They are Charles Bramble, George Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Charles Helmrich, city, C. M. Sanner, LaVale, Alexander Gardner, Lonaconing and Rev. Levi Zeigler, of Westernport.

Their names have been placed on the slate which will be presented at the annual Red Cross meeting on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mrs. Legge said yesterday that reservations to the dinner, which is open to the public, are to be in by 5 p. m. today at her office in the Post Office building.

Guest speaker at the dinner will be Gifford W. Ross, assistant director of fund raising of the national Red Cross.

During the meeting brief reports will be given by committee chairmen and there will be an election of six members of the board. Aside from the nominees being presented at the meeting, additional nominations may be made from the floor, Mrs. Legge said.

Each year six members of the 18-member board are elected, according to Mrs. Legge, who said that branch chairmen throughout the county automatically become members of the board.

The nominating committee, headed by George Schwarzenbach, includes Duard H. Little and Dr. W. Royce Hodges.

Mayor Says Port Ready For Races

Mayor J. Edwin Keech inspected the Cumberland Municipal Airport yesterday and reported the area is about ready for the Sports Car Races this weekend.

Walls and roof are completed, he said, and workers were placing the large hangar door.

Mayor Keech resumed his City Hall duties yesterday after a brief trip to Florida.

Guilty Of Shooting At Police Officer

Thomas Yokum Jr., 33, of Mill Creek, W. Va. (Randolph County) yesterday was sentenced to one to 10 years in prison after being found guilty of attempted murder in the first degree for shooting at a West Virginia state policeman last April 12.

In passing sentence yesterday morning in the Pendleton County Court House, Judge H. G. Muntzing recommended that Yokum serve the full 10 years in the West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville.

He was lodged in the county jail overnight and is expected to be taken to Moundsville this morning to begin serving the term.

During the trial, Trooper B. H. Swartz, Cpl. F. W. Armstrong and Deputy Sheriff Estel Ruddle testified that Yokum shot at them when they attempted to arrest him on a warrant sworn out for assault and battery by the man's uncle, Ralph Yokum of Mouth of Seneca.

The policemen said Yokum fired at the officers with a shotgun when they neared the home of the uncle with whom the defendant had been living for the past several months.
